ACHS coaches' contracts not renewed

MARY FOLEY
Staff Reporter

Two coaches at Antioch Community High School will not have their contracts renewed if the Board of Education has its way. Jeff Moxley and Norm Hahn were told that their coaching contracts would not be renewed.

The school board held a special meeting Tuesday night, primarily conducted in executive session, to determine if any action was to be taken on four increment positions. A large group of bus drivers, security and custodial employees were also present, hoping to say a few words about the eradication of their positions.

The board told the excitable audience that Moxley's position as an assistant wrestling coach would not be renewed. Moxley is also a gym teacher at the school. Hahn, who is both a track coach and spring trainer was told that his spring training position would not be renewed. He will continue to teach social studies and coach track, however.

According to Superintendent Robert Schley the failure to renew Moxley's contract was performance related. In Hahn's Schley has been doing two things at the same time," explained Schley. "We need to provide better service to our athletes. We had the same person doing the different things at the same time... Cost issues were not discussed."

PM&L Theatre expansion breaks ground

MARY FOLEY
Staff Reporter

The Palette, Masque and Lyre (PM&L) Theater has begun the long-awaited expansion program with a ground breaking Monday night. The theater is to be extended to the rear of the building adding a scene shop and rehearsal stage.

Both present and past presidents of the theater were on hand for the ground breaking as well as Mayor Marilyn Shineflug and Village Trustees Marv Oldenburger, Dorothy Larson and Mabel Lou Weber. Approximately 30 other people were also there to witness the event.

The expansion is being funded, in part, by a $36,000 grant from the Department of Tourism. It is a matching grant and the group was required to raise half the funds.

According to Ken Smouse, See THEATER page A10

Resident grateful to emergency services

MARY FOLEY

Richard Nava, an Antioch resident, is a very grateful man as his wife and son recover from their injuries after an early morning auto accident April 2. The car, driven by Frank Nava, a student driver, went off the pavement on Grass Lake Road when the gravel caught the tires.

"I want to thank the Antioch Rescue Squad, the Antioch Police Department, and the Lake County Sheriffs," said Nava. "Everybody was so nice."

According to Nava, another driver was passing the vehicle and his son Frank, a novice driver, pulled a slight bit to the right. Unfortunately, the wheels of the Nava vehicle caught the gravel on the side of the road and the car went off the road.

Frank Nava received 44 stitches to the eye, while Nava's wife, Nancy, was in intensive care. While Nancy will require leg surgery, Nava believes everyone will be all right. Both had to be removed from the accident on back boards.

Mother and son were on their way to Good Shepherd Church to help out with the annual Easter egg hunt. Both were taken to Northern Illinois Medical Center in McHenry.

Worker pleads guilty to bank fraud

MARY FOLEY

Staff Reporter

Elaine Ciborowski, age 53, of North Avenue in Antioch, plead guilty in U.S. District Court after being charged with defrauding Gladstone Norwood Trust and Savings Bank of $238,000 and causing losses of $55,000. Ciborowski was employed at the bank as a loan officer.

The FBI, in December, announced 39 unrelated indictments and criminal information, charging 43 defendants with crimes against a total of 35 federally insured lending institutions and a mortgage company. Six of the affected banks have branch offices in Lake County. Ciborowski was included in the sweep.

As for Ciborowski, the criminal information had charged that over a 10-year period, Ciborowski engaged in a loan kite. She made 20 unauthorized or fictitious loans totaling $238,000. The initial purpose of the phony loans was to retire delinquent debts of family members. The subsequent fraudulent loan proceeds were used for personal and families expenses.

According to the FBI, they were able to uncover Ciborowski's scheme before the total amount of $238,000 was out of the control of the bank. The bank's losses totaled $55,000.

The United States Sentencing Guidelines allows the court to impose a fine of greater or double the gain to Ciborowski or loss to the bank, or $1,000,000. If convicted, Ciborowski faces a maximum sentence of 30 years imprisonment. Ciborowski is scheduled to be sentenced June 30.

Lake Villa unit district going for fall vote

ALEC JUNG

Staff Reporter

Supporters of a combined unit school district in Lake Villa are trying to get the measure on the ballot in November.

Joyce Henneberry said the district has a committee of 10 to represent the district. At this time the financial impacts are unclear until meetings with surrounding school districts are complete. The idea is to have a central focal point for Lake Villa Township.

"It's really a way to bring cohesiveness to Lake Villa Township," Henneberry said. "It would be a focal point for Lake Villa Township."

Currently the students in the proposed boundary area of the unit district go in two separate high school districts and 13 separate school districts. The idea is to consolidate the students in the township with the exception of the western boundary to one district from kindergarten to grade 12.

Supporters say a unit district is more efficient, there would be a unified curriculum and students would stay with the same group of kids.

"There are many attempts to articulate curriculum differences, but it is very difficult for the elementary staff to accommodate the different needs of each high school. Socially it is also very difficult for grade school friends to be scattered among three high schools after graduation."

"High schools in a dual system are often faced with inequities coming from the feeder schools. Antioch Community High School is an example of the problem. Six elementary school districts feed into ACHS. The social services and offerings of the larger schools are more extensive than several smaller schools. The high school spends precious time at the beginning of the school year assessing students from each feeder district. The beginning of the learning process is delayed because of the students," Henneberry said.

Henneberry said the unit district provides one administration with one curriculum. The transportation costs also tend to be lower with all the students saying in one district.

Referendum supporters still are meeting with officials from Antioch, Grayslake and Lake Villa school systems. Unresolved issues are division of property within the district boundary, the cost of maintaining and operating the school and the cost of building a new high school.

The referendum would be two separate questions. One would call for a unit district and another is to pay for a new high school. Also, a school board would be elected to represent the district.

In the next few weeks, after meeting with other school districts, such as Antioch District 34 and 117, Millburn District 24, Grayslake High School District 127 and Lake Villa District 41, supporters will unveil the costs of the district and how the buildings are going to be divided.

Once on the ballot, it must pass in the affected district areas. Those areas include Antioch, Grayslake, Lake Villa and Lindenhurst.

The referendum can enter the ballot if the affected school boards adopt resolutions allowing the unit district to be on the ballot or signatures can be obtained from 50 people in each district.

Henneberry said the unit district will attempt to get on the ballot first by getting resolutions approved by the affected school districts. If a district won't adopt a resolution, signatures will be sought in those areas.

Crime trends show rise in domestic, gang violence

MARY FOLEY

Staff Reporter

Judge Raymond McKoski, Circuit Judge of the 19th Judicial District, gave a presentation to the Antioch Rotary Club about trends in crime. He also discussed and distributed this year's children's coloring book about the law.

"DUI's are down a little again this year," said McKoski. "However there has been a huge influx of domestic violence. So much so, we will be starting Domestic Violence Court on April 4."

McKoski told the group about the new procedure for obtaining a restraining order in situations where one family member is abusing another. According to McKoski, if abuse exists, a restraining order can be obtained free and without the need to consult a lawyer. Because of this procedure, the courts are being kept busy with these cases.

"We get 1,900 of these a year," said McKoski. "Which is 7 1/2 a day. In these cases, one family member is abusing another. We usually give it to them. There is usually a good reason."

However, McKoski attributes the increase in domestic violence cases to a greater awareness by the public. "People are going to court now," he said.

When obtaining a restraining order, the person restrained must move from the house for 15 days. Also, property assets cannot be sold.

McKoski was asked if he was seeing an increase in gang crimes. "Yes, there is an increase," said McKoski. "We are seeing a lot more violent crime done by younger people. They (gangs) are in every single community. You name it, they are there."

"Learning More About the Law" is a coloring book which McKoski edited, to help young children understand more about the law. The coloring book is just one of the many educational programs presented by the courts to provide information to all age groups about the judicial branch of the government.

The books are directed towards the kindergarten to third-grade age group and are available by calling McKoski's office at 360-7306.

ACHS band to get new uniforms

MARY FOLEY

Staff Reporter

The Antioch Community High School band will be receiving new band uniforms as a result of the efforts of the Antioch Music Parents. Representatives of the group told the Antioch Rotary Club they had amassed $21,000 of the needed $25,000 for the 85 band and color guard uniforms.

The Antioch Rotary Club generously presented a $500 check to the music group representatives to help defray the costs. The Antioch Music Parents raffled a car off last summer to help raise the needed money.

The current band and guard uniforms are 20 years old. Because of dry-rot and the fact that students, in general, are larger than students years ago, many of the uniforms are ripping. The school will own the uniforms when they arrive.

The cost of each uniform with garment bag is $275. The band uniforms are described as pants, jacket and hat with the school colors, with piping and tails. The guard uniforms will be white dresses with red and gray sequins.

Representatives told the Rotary, "We are close to reaching our goal. We should reach it soon. All the money used towards the uniforms was raised from the outside."

School BRIEFS

Kindergarten registrations

Oakland School will be having kindergarten registration on April 19 from 9 a.m. to 1 p.m. and 2 p.m. to 4 p.m. and April 20 from 9 a.m. to 1 p.m. and 6:30 p.m. to 8 p.m. Children must be 5 years old on or before Sept. 1. Parents must bring a birth or hospital birth record form and proof of residency.

Antioch Community Consolidated School District 34 announces fall kindergarten registration for Antioch Elementary School on April 19 from 9 a.m. to 1 p.m. and 2 p.m. to 4 p.m. and April 20 from 9 a.m. to 1 p.m. and 6:30 p.m. to 8 p.m. Children must be 5 years old on or before Sept. 1. Parents must bring a birth or hospital birth record form and proof of residency.

Student needs information

Nick Centrangelo, a fifth-grader at Del Obispo School in San Juan Capistrano, California is writing a report on the state of Illinois. He has requested that residents of Antioch send him information on our town. If possible, he needs information regarding Antioch's history, mascots, festivals as well as any other information you would like to send. Please help Nick out by sending this information to Nick Centrangelo, 25762 Via Del Rey, San Juan Capistrano, California 92675.

National library week

A reminder to residents that National Library Week is April 17-23, and will be celebrated in libraries all over the country. Make sure to stop by the Antioch Public Library for the celebration.

Happy birthday Emmons

Congratulations to Emmons School. The original district was formed in 1844, making them 150 years old. The school is planning a special birthday celebration next fall.

Central College to visit

Central College Admission Counselor Ann Sobiech will visit with college bound students at Antioch Community High School on April 18. Interested students should contact their high school counselor to arrange an appointment. Central College is a four-year liberal arts college in Pella, Iowa with an enrollment of 1,500 students. A unique trimester system and a strong commitment to developing communication skills is at the heart of Central's academic program that offers 34 majors. The admission counselor will answer students' questions about Central's academic programs, international study programs, student life, financial aid, and extracurricular activities. More information about Central College is available by calling 1-800-458-5503.

Parent's group gets donation from Rotary

MARY FOLEY

Staff Reporter

The A.L.L. (Antioch, Lake Villa, Lindenhurst) Parent Network received a donation of $500 from the Antioch Rotary Club for the annual post prom party. A.L.L. has been sponsoring the party for the past three years, and also is responsible for the parent directory.

This year's post prom party will be at Second City theater in Chicago. Participants will be bused from the prom in Palatine, to Chicago, returning to Chicago around 5 a.m. It is hoped that an additional bus will be available from Antioch to Chicago for those students who wish to participate in the post prom activities but not attend the prom.

The group is primarily funded by donations from villages and large organizations. The cost to students is very reasonable. For $15 a person, students will receive transportation to and from Second City, food, non-alcoholic beverages, and a two hour performance by Second City. It is a great way to spend prom night safely.

A.L.L. besides looking for donations is also looking for adult chaperones.

ACHS students receive Tandy awards

Nine Antioch Community High School students received certificates recognizing their academic achievements from the Tandy Corporation. Tandy sponsors the Tandy Technology Scholars program which awards scholarships and certificates to outstanding students.

The academic top two percent of graduating seniors are eligible to receive certificates. Also, each school that participates nominates a senior who is outstanding in mathematics, science, or computer science. This year's winners from ACHS for the math/science certificates were Kimberly Margaret Wirsing and Amy Reijonen.

The top 2 percent winners were Sarah Skye Ayre, Amanda Baright, Erica Behling, Timothy Grabowski, Jennifer Mosier, Maxine Olson, and David Schran.

More than 67 percent of all secondary schools in the U.S. are enrolled in this education initiative funded by the Tandy Corporation and administered by Texas Christian University. Almost 34,000 individuals are recognized this year.

The Tandy Technology Scholars program is open to students and teachers in accredited high schools. The total amount of the awards given about by the program was $350,000 for 1994. One hundred teachers received $2,500 prizes, while 100 students received $1,000 awards.—by

—Shop ANTIOCH— Get ready for outdoor sports fun

Now that we've started venturing out of our homes after a long, bitter winter, our thoughts wander towards the more pleasant aspects of warm weather...enjoying the outdoors.

Spring sports bring us relief from winter blues and the opportunity to get into shape for summer. Whether you enjoy biking, fishing, rollerblading, soccer, baseball, walking, tennis, jogging, croquet, badminton or bocce, Antioch's recreation activities are only surpassed by the service and product you'll find at our local sports and recreation shops and centers.

To complement our area's youth baseball and soccer programs, Antioch merchants offer attractive specials on shoes, bats and baseball gloves. For equipment advice and service, stop by Antioch Family Sports or BJ's

Sports regarding your needs and concerns. You'll find most of your sporting/ recreational supplies in stock, and very knowledgeable and helpful staff eager to assist and advise you.

If you are an avid fisherman, now is the time to visit Triangle Sports for the latest in rods and reels. Their staff has complete product knowledge and can outfit you specific to your needs. Rod and reel repair is also available, plus a large variety of bait and tackle for all types of fishing.

Bicycling is a favorite pastime for many, both young and old. Make sure your bike is in top condition with a tune up from Antioch Schwinn. If you've outgrown your bike, or just ready for a change, check out their great selection of new models. If indoor cycling is more your speed, be sure to look at the different exercise bikes offered.

Your safety and that of others is a primary concern. Make sure the equipment you're using is in good condition and meets safety guidelines. Also, become familiar with the pitfalls of the sport you're about to undertake. If you're unsure about equipment needs or use, talk to someone with knowledge on the subject. Protect yourself with appropriate gear, helmets and reflectors for bike riding; knee, elbow, and wrist guards for rollerblading; proper footwear for soccer; life vests for fishing; even proper equipment and technique to help guard against tennis elbow should be considered.

Country dancing comes to Antioch

Citizens Against UnSafe Electricity (CAUSE) is presenting country dancing every Thursday night from 7:30 to 10:10:30 p.m. at the Antioch VFW Post on North Avenue. Roy and Judy Clark, professional licensed country dance instructors will be on hand to provide instruction.

All ages, from the novice to the expert, are invited to socialize, exercise, and just have fun.

Meet new friends while learning country dancing. The cost is $4 per person and includes lesson, if necessary.

CAUSE is a local group opposed to the placement of high voltage power lines in both Antioch and Lake Villa. For more information about the country dancing or about CAUSE call 395-4915.—by MARY FOLEY

It's not too late to join 4-H

Although the deadline is approaching there is still time for youth ages 8 through 19 to enroll in 4-H clubs in Lake County and prepare an exhibit for the 4-H shows to be held in conjunction with the Lake County Fair in July. Youth can choose from 21 community clubs that meet in most areas of the county. The clubs' year runs from September to August, but a great many activities are scheduled from April through July.

Youth interested in small animal care will be able to participate in countrywide training sessions for dog, cat, and rabbit projects to be held in April and May in preparation for shows to be held in July. Horse members will be trained at a series of lessons starting in late May. Photography is another project area with a special county training session scheduled.

Members also have the opportunity to attend 4-H camp, youth conference, judging events, and the Illinois State Fair. 4-H means summer fun! It provides opportunities to make new friends and work with others. It is the youth education program of the Univ. of Illinois Cooperative Extension Service. For further information contact the 4-H office at 223-8627.

Annual Seniors Day planning underway

Exhibitors and sponsors for the 22nd Annual Seniors Day Celebration are being sought by the Lake County Forest Preserves.

Held each summer at Lakewood Forest Preserve near Wauconda, this annual event traditionally attracts thousands of senior citizens from throughout the Chicago area.

Free musical entertainment, dancing, games, demonstrations, exhibits and refreshments are offered on Wednesday, June 22, between 9 a.m. and 4 p.m. The Guy Lombardo Orchestra, directed by Al Pierson, will bring the big band sound alive from 1 to 4 p.m. as the event's featured entertainment, sponsored by First Colonial Bank of Lake County and the Fox Lake State Bank.

Bingo, boat rides, fishing and horseshoe contests are some of the popular activities offered throughout the day. Door prizes are provided and a noontime ceremony honors all Lake County centenarians and the winners of the Seniors Day "King and Queen of the Day" contest, sponsored by the News-Sun.

Many exhibitors are on hand each year to provide participants with information and product samples on a wide range of services. Exhibitors include service organizations as well as corporations and businesses. Table, chairs, electricity and banner are provided for all exhibitors.

This year's Seniors Day chairperson is Lake County Commissioner Larry Leafblad of Highland Lake. "We're looking for corporations and businesses that are interested in sponsoring Seniors Day. A sponsor can underwrite the cost of any portion of the event or provide a special service for the day," said Leafblad.

"Involvement from local corporations and businesses as sponsors and exhibitors adds to the growing success of the event and encourages greater participation from seniors. We encourage potential sponsors or exhibitors to contact us by April 30. Other donations of cash or gifts will be accepted up to June 22."

Major sponsors for the event receive special benefits. All donations are tax-deductible and will receive program recognition.

Spring Creek Plaza opens in Spring Grove

TINA L. SWIECH
Staff Reporter

The booming village of Spring Grove has yet another new structure in its midst.

"It's one of the biggest things to hit Spring Grove in a long time!" explained Welcome Wagon Representative Sherry Schultz.

Open only a little over a month, two Fox Lake residents got together and built the "Spring Creek Plaza" on Rte. 12 just east of Winn Rd.

"It was felt that something was needed in this town," explained Ed Fojtek Jr., of Fojtek Construction Co. Also, "It seemed like a good investment for us."

Fojtek, who has done many residential developments in the past, and partner Gary Rabine, Jr. of Rabine Paving observed the sudden growth of the community and the attractive country-type atmosphere the village promotes.

The new shopping center fits right in with its covered walkways and rustic appearance. The size of the building totals nearly 20,000-square feet, said Fojtek. "It's spectacular-looking," explained the owner.

So far the building is 60 percent occupied with independent owners including a pizza shop, video store, gift shop, florist, dry cleaners, shelving store and a hot dog shop.

There's more room available also, said the owner. Perhaps a beauty shop would want to move in to one of the units. And what's really needed in the town, said Fojtek, is a doctors office, either dentist, physician or chiropractor. Currently there are no doctors in the village at this time.

It took a total of about six months to complete, and the only thing left to do now is landscaping and light touch-up painting.

Taxpayers bear cost for illegal immigration

The tremendous cost to taxpayers of illegal immigration is finally gaining more attention.

Leaders of states hit the hardest by the outpouring of state funds to cover the cost of providing assistance to illegal residents have raised their voices to protest.

Over 200,000 illegal immigrants are believed to be living in Illinois at a cost of an estimated $200 million a year. The state ranks fifth in the nation as recipient of those who cross our borders illegally.

Medical services and schooling are provided by federal law and court rulings for the illegal immigrants, but states must pick up the tab for almost all of these mandated costs. Then, too, there is the cost of providing services for the growing number of illegal immigrants in state prison systems.

The governor of the state of California, Pete Wilson, contends the cost of services to illegal immigrants is bankrupting his state.

The governor of another, Lawton Chiles, instructed the state's attorney general to sue the Immigration and Naturalization Service for failure to enforce immigration laws, and the Federal Government for not reimbursing Florida for health, education and welfare benefits given to undocumented workers and their children.

The protests have been heard in Congress. We now have reason to believe we will get some congressional action in this area, although we may have to wait until next year before the Democratic congressional leadership takes action.

Some congressional efforts have already been made to curb the costs of illegals.

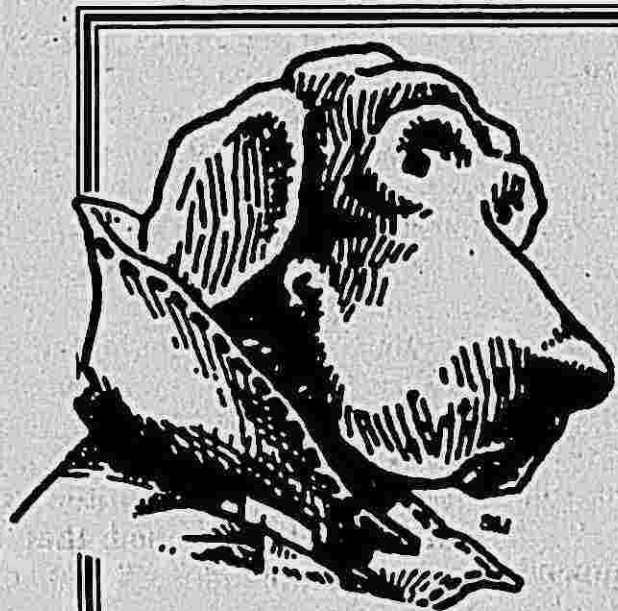

This year, Congress voted to deny long-term assistance to undocumented immigrants who were victims of the southern California earthquakes.

Others have not been successful. One effort that failed in the Senate would have placed an absolute ban on benefits to illegal immigrants. Another would have turned over $25 billion to states as reimbursement for spending on illegals.

I have authored a bill which requires federal reimbursement for the cost of federal mandates.

I agree with those critics who contend that illegals are receiving aid while programs helping U.S. citizens are being cut.

Immigration is under federal jurisdiction, but the states are being made to pay for what should be federal costs.

Windmill Creek residents to organize

MARY FOLEY

Staff Reporter

The developers of Windmill Creek continue to meet with strong opposition from residents of that subdivision. The proposed expansion plan is once again on the agenda for the April 14 meeting of the Antioch Planning and Zoning Board at 7:30 p.m. and a big turn-out is expected.

Already, 38 homes have been built on the development, and owner, Al Little, is hoping to sell the western part of the development to America Today. Little wants to keep the remaining portion while developing the remainder himself.

At the Feb. 24 meeting of the Antioch Planning and Zoning Board, America Today Developers asked the board for approval to increase the number of proposed homes from 307 to 381. The board unanimously rejected the plan.

A large number of Antioch Village residents turned out for the March 7 Antioch Village Board meeting, only to learn that the village decided to return the Windmill Creek issue back to the Combined Planning and Zoning Board. Residents were, however, reassured that it was the zoning board's intention to provide an opportunity to express their concerns.

"I think it is clear from the recommendation of the Planning Commission to provide information at a public hearing," Trustee Marv Oldenburger told the audience.

Residents of Windmill Creek and the surrounding areas affected by the new proposal are banding together. Anyone interested in receiving more information should call Pat or Barb at 395-9966 after 5 p.m. The Antioch Village Board, several months ago, approved an extension of 90 more days to the Windmill Creek Development. The development has yet to complete certain public and quasi-public improvements.

This will be the second extension that the developer has received. In December, the developer asked for an extension of one year. However, the board denied that request.

The new extension, which will run until April 18, serves to forestall the board from drawing on the letter of credit.

Property owner to seek annexation

MARY FOLEY

Staff Reporter

An attorney, representing the Vos Property, sought and received a definite maybe from the Antioch Village Board regarding the possibility of annexation of the Route 59 property. The property owner was given a conditional nod to proceed to the Antioch Zoning Board.

The property in question is located South of Mystic Cove and East of Falcon Hills in unincorporated Antioch Township. It is currently outside the sewer service area and includes 22.7 developable acres.

The number of buildable lots depends on whether or not the village annexes the property. If the village does not and the facilities planning area is not extended, only 10 to 15 lots could be developed. This is because the lots would require both a septic field and a well and the county limits the density.

If the village decides to annex the property, a maximum of 40 lots could be developed. However, density is not the only consideration for the property.

Because of the incline of the property, Robert Silhan, Antioch village planner, voiced some concern about the use of septic fields at the site. "City sewer and water would be better for the welfare of the community," explained Silhan. "This is because of the slope of the property."

"Given the topography of the land, we need to protect the lake," said Trustee Marvin Oldenburger. "The lot sizes seem ideal."

The board even discussed the possibility of extending the sewer service to Emmons School. According to Silhan, the village had agreed to look into the possibility of extending sewer and water service to the school at some future time.

Trustee Wayne Foresta voiced some concerns about potential increases in the number of lots, especially in light of the financial problems facing Antioch Community High School.

"We are looking to extend the village more and doubling the size potential," said Foresta. "It is something we should start thinking about until something is done with the high school."

"I agree wholeheartedly with Wayne," said Oldenburger. "But, the answer is not to just say no to development. There is a way to make them (developers) pay. We have an environmental problem here because of the topography. This will not help the high school."

The board then recommended the property owner go to the zoning board. The owner will have to present the proposal in separate public hearings and the annexation will not be automatic.

Woodcrest Association membership to meet

MARY FOLEY

Staff Reporter

The newly re-incorporated Woodcrest Association is planning a general membership meeting on Saturday, April 16. After mailing out over 190 letters to homeowners within the subdivision, it is hoped that as many as possible will turn out and support the group.

The association is currently involved in litigation to reclaim the common beach and park areas. It was discovered that a property owner in the subdivision had included the common areas in a trust deed, thereby causing a cloud on the title.

On the plus side, the subdivi-sion's problem has instilled new energy and a sense of community. Last month the association re-incorporated and residents are meeting on a regular basis at the Old Channel Lake School.

At the April 16 meeting, the group is expected to discuss a number of organizational issues, as well as plans for the future of the group. Dues, a general election, and liability insurance will be covered at the meeting.

The meeting will be held at 9:30 in the old Channel Lake School. The school is currently owned by Kenneth Domanchuk, who has graciously volunteered the space for the meeting.

Contract

the basketball team was retained, at least for the next year. According to union officials proper procedure had not been followed. Dresser availed himself to the opportunity of addressing the board before a decision was made.

Larry Kamin, vice president of the Antioch teachers union, had some angry words to say about the board's decision when the board returned to executive session.

"Evaluations were not followed properly," Kamin said. "There was no remediation."

About Moxley, Kamin said, "The head coach admitted he (Moxley) had done everything he had asked. There were 14 reasons for the dismissal, all of them personal. I was told by him (the head coach) that he was looking to get rid of Jeff and bring me back.

"I will not apply for this job," Kamin continued. "I will probably get called in for this but I have to look myself in the eye."

Schley said the philosophy of the district was to allow head coaches to evaluate their assistants. "It's their right to decide," he said.

"Up until now, we have had a good relationship with the administration," said Kamin. "Now, increment positions are used as pawns against the association."

"We have always had a great working relationship with the board and plan to continue it," said Kamin. "This is a great school and we have some great kids. It is just a shame."

Hahn, a union negotiator, said he was expecting this. He plans to fight the decision.

"I did this for years without pay. I have been the spring trainer and track coach for 22 years. There has never been a problem until now," said Hahn. "Could this be harassment because of my work with the association? I am dealing with the IEA and will see what can be done."

According to Kamin, the union will investigate the possibility of an unfair labor practice action.

"This is just the RIF (reduction in force)," said Kamin. "This is not final."

Women's Health to be discussed at library

A special program for women will be presented at the Nippersink Library in Richmond.

Open house planned

Antioch Community Consolidated School District 34 announces an open house on April 16 between 1 and 3 p.m. at the Antioch Upper Grade School in honor of retiring Dr. Donald Skidmore. Skidmore is retiring as superintendent after 16 years at the helm. Everyone is invited.

On April 18 at 7 p.m., Dr. James Lindemulder will give a presentation entitled "Estrogen Therapy for Women of the 90s."

He will discuss estrogen as it relates to menopause and answer other questions women have about menopause.

Dr. Lindemulder is an obstetrics and gynecology physician with Demir Novas Gallee & Associates in Hanover Park. He is also a member of the American Medical Association, the American Osteopathic Association and the Kane County Medical Society.

The program is open to all, but registration is required. Register at the circulation desk of the library located at 5418 Mill Rd., or call (815) 678-4014.—by TINA SWIECH

Theater

one of the theater's founding members, the expansion will cost roughly $80,000. The bulk of the money was raised by the group.

When asked when the project is expected to be completed, Smouse quipped, "That is the question everyone wants to know."

Other recent renovations include a major renovation of the downstairs lounge area in 1985. Also, new seats were added, which were funded, in part, by "selling" the seats to patrons.

The Theater is presenting "Run for Your Wife" which will open Friday, April 9. For reserved seating, call 395-3055 from 5:30 to 7:30 p.m. Monday through Friday. Unreserved seats are available at the door.

Vandals strike Gurnee sites

STEVE PETERSON

Staff Reporter

Deborah and Steven Brillion moved to Gurnee's North Brown Circle neighborhood to live in the town in which they were raised — in a quiet and safe environment.

Vandals disturbed the quiet early Friday morning. When the Brillions awoke, they found a swastika painted on the garage door. Similar acts of vandalism were found at the Special Education Dist. of Lake County (SEDOL) headquarters and at Gurnee Park District's South Park.

"You think you are protected, but there is no safe community," Deborah Brillion said.

The Brillions moved to Gurnee from Beach Park three years ago.

"This is one of the most prestigious areas of Gurnee. There are a lot of older people here," Brillion said.

The Brillions have two children, ages 5 and 1/2 and 3 and 1/2 years old, who did not realize what is going on.

"I think people will start watching what is going on," Brillion said.

A neighbor called early April 1 with the bad news.

"We have had a rash of graffiti and property damage. We are getting good cooperation," Hank Schwarz, acting police chief, said. "If they keep it up, they will be caught."

He said those who use such symbols sometimes do not know what they mean. The sign was used by the Nazis during World War II.

Schwarz reminded that the village does have a curfew of 11 p.m., Sunday through Thursday, midnight for Friday and Saturday for those under 18.

"It is more frustrating than anything else," Schwarz said.

Gurnee does not have an ordinance which penalizes parents for vandalism acts, but one is in the works.

League supports keg ordinance

Lake County Municipal League is supporting an effort which would lead to better tracking to make sure underage persons are not drinking from kegs.

"We tried it at the state level, but it was blocked by the liquor lobby," Ed Glatfelter, league director, said.

The League is encouraging individual towns to approve stronger ordinances regarding beer keg sales.

"I would like to see it done on a county-wide basis," Gurnee Mayor Dick Welton said. "Our feeling is that if municipalities show interest, it could gain momentum."

On another front, the League is not taking a position on bills before a Senate committee which would require CPR certification for police, firemen and teachers.

O'Kelly: Trustees are not listening

SUZIE REED
Staff Reporter

Fresh from her March 15 victory as District 10 Republican nominee for the Lake County Board, Diana O'Kelly is continuing her campaign against over-development.

"We need to get more people attending village meetings," she said.

The March 28 meeting of the Mundelein Village Board included a presentation that had not been listed on the agenda. Town & Country Homes explained a concept that would add another 500 homes to the village, many of them in the Fremont School District.

"It's so critical in our area," said O'Kelly. "If Grainger gets what they want and 2,200 homes are put on the Cuneo property, then we're approving a new subdivision, it's really out of control."

The Zale Group's concept for the Cuneo Property was approved by the Vernon Hills Village Board over numerous protests from residents and school officials concerned about the enrollment impact.

O'Kelly spoke with Fremont's business director Tammy Beckwith after she learned of the Town & Country proposal. The impact fee agreed to in 1990 is a little more than $1,000 per home, said Beckwith. The cost of educating each child is currently listed at $5,300, leaving the balance to be paid for by the taxpayers.

"It doesn't even take into consideration the rest of the infrastructure need to service those new residents: water, sewer, roads, police, fire, etc.," said O'Kelly in a written statement.

"When I talked to people and asked them what was on their minds, it was development, taxes, overcrowding of schools and traffic from new developments," she said later in a telephone interview. "I'm not telling me now that they do agree with what I was saying and asking if they can help me."

Even if O'Kelly can get the word out and pack the boardroom with concerned residents, it may not be enough. Village boards in the area have not been listening to the people, she said.

"They approve these developments with a roomful of people opposing them."

"I can't change the world, but I've vowed to fight and I'm going to. People said they wanted my representation; I'm going to give them that."

Diana O'Kelly

Gang member hits man over head

TINA L. SWIECH
Staff Reporter

A Zion man visiting in Round Lake Beach was hit over the head with a 2-by 4-inch board, in alleged retaliation over a previous stabbing.

Police said the incident on April 2 at around 1:30 a.m. was apparently gang related.

Reportedly, a known street gang member from Chicago, Clyde Fugate, 21, took a board and hit 23-year-old Robert Rodriguez over the head.

Rodriguez, along with his brother Efrin Rodriguez, and two women, reported that as they were leaving a residence, several cars began chasing them.

Rodriguez, of 2421 Hebron, Zion, said he drove to a relative's house on Round Lake Drive. When he got to the house, he got out along with the others, and the next thing he knew there were some paramedics assisting him.

Apparently Rodriguez was hit over the head with a wooden board. His brother told police Fugate did it, and then he jumped on Fugate and tried to stop him, but was pushed off by another alleged gang member, Marchond Jones, 23, of 22629 Lakeview Drive, Round Lake.

The three cars that reportedly followed Rodriguez to the Round Lake Drive home, then drove off.

Police stopped the vehicles after they saw them pull out and drive at a high rate of speed.

Fugate and Jones along with the others were taken to the CenCom station at 911 Lotus and interviewed.

There Fugate told police he had been stabbed by Rodriguez earlier and had just gotten out of Condell Hospital in Libertyville, the same town where the stabbing allegedly took place. Fugate denies ever touching Rodriguez. Jones, however, admitted to following Rodriguez's car from the Shorewood Subdivision, and he also stated Fugate hit the victim "four times with a stick."

Libertyville Police were contacted about the prior stabbing, and Jones was cited with disorderly conduct, and released on $100 bond, and Fugate was charged with aggravated assault as well as unlawful use of a weapon.

Fugate complained of his lungs hurting and police noted his side was bleeding from the stab wound. He was transported back to Condell Hospital, but didn't get to go home afterwards. After he was treated and released from the hospital, Fugate was transferred to the Lake County Jail.

Rodriguez reportedly had a bleeding ear after he was hit with the 2 by 4.

Body recovered at North Point Marina

SPENCER SCHEIN
Staff Reporter

Lake County* investigators have yet to identify a body found in Winthrop Harbor on Lake Michigan, but have not ruled out the possibility it could be a man who has been missing since July of '93.

Barbara E. Richardson, coroner of Lake County, said they are working a handicap as they have very little information to work with. The body had been found

"by kids playing on the (outer) break wall" at the North Point Marina on the lake in Winthrop Harbor, according to a news release from the village police department.

The police received the call at 5:16 p.m. March 31, and found the unidentified body wedged under some rocks on the break wall. The coroner's office officially pronounced the man dead at 6:10 p.m., and the body was removed. See BODY page B2

Scouts, students work to preserve ducks

Each year over 450,000 acres of wetland in the U.S. disappear, taking away natural habitat for many marsh species.

To help prevent the loss of local animals, a joint effort between the Illinois Department of Conservation, a local Ducks Unlimited committee, and a local Boy Scout Troop has placed 24 wood duck nests around Grass Lake to provide safe nesting and breeding areas for the ducks.

In a true pooling of resources, Future Farmers of America students at the Lake County Area Vocational Center prepared wood duck box kits from materials donated by the college. The kits were then assembled by Boy Scout Troop #166 of Fox River Grove.

The completed boxes were then paced in trees by members of Ducks Unlimited and the Boy Scouts, using Haling and Sons Marina as a headquarters for the placement procedures.

Placement of the nesting boxes was only the beginning of the project, however. Each February the Ducks Unlimited committee and The Boy Scouts will meet to clean out the boxes and conduct a survey of each box's use, to be used by the State Park and Ducks Unlimited National Headquarters. — by BILL DERMODY JR

Recycling increases, 21 percent reused

SPENCER SCHEIN

Staff Reporter

Recycling is proving to be an economical divergent from increasing landfill space and creating more jobs and a larger economy in the long-run, says a Lake County official.

Although information gathering has been a difficult process for Mark Loughmiller, recycling coordinator for the Solid Waste Agency of Lake County, the latest collected data from 1992 shows a 21 percent recovery rate on garbage from residential single-family homes.

Loughmiller collected information from 33 Lake County communities, with the most available information being from residential homes in communities with curbside or other means of collection.

These communities diverted 41,347 tons of material that would have ended up in landfills, with more than 27,000 tons being yard waste, which is banned from state landfills.

He said the agency is only seeing reliable data from the residential areas, and are still trying to find ways to track other waste collection data such as from industrial businesses.

Currently under State law, the County is only able to record the recyclables collected from the lunch-rooms and offices in industrial parks, and not the industrial waste.

And without this information, Loughmiller said the County has a more difficult job of reaching the State mandated goal to reach a recycling level of 25 percent by the end of this year, five years after the County's solid waste plan was adopted.

He said it has been frustrating trying to reach the level, with businesses not yet required to record data, having the possibility of double counting the materials waste haulers bring to processing plants, and without the use of scales at landfills, which are now using a conversion method of volume yards to tons.

An agency report states many Lake County businesses have been recycling materials generated in their offices, although few have forwarded the information to the agency.

The communities are required to record both garbage and collection generated rates, which is the area where information is available, he said.

Overall, Loughmiller shows how recycling is more cost efficient than dumping the material at landfills.

While it costs approximately $175 per-ton to collect both recyclables and garbage, the end result is a $44 per-ton return on recycling, and zero on garbage.

"While recycling does create some pollution, the reality is you are not as energy intensive as using raw materials," he said.

When looking at the whole picture, society receives a greater benefit from recycling, as it creates jobs, is in the process of creating a new industry and is changing the way people view garbage and landfills, he said.

When comparing data from 1992 to 1991, an agency report shows all areas of collection increased, with newsprint by 24.7 percent, plastics by 19.9 percent, glass tonnage by 36.3 percent, ferrous metal tonnage by 50.4 percent and aluminum can tonnage by 11.4 percent.

The communities which have the highest levels of recycling are the areas which have expanded their list of collection, which now includes mixed paper, such as "junk mail" and cereal boxes, which Loughmiller said increases the rates.

Deerfield is one of these communities and boasts one of the highest reported recycling rates at 35 percent.

The collected total tonnage equates to a 358,652 cubic yard savings of landfill space, with the disposal of the material in a sanitary landfill costing County residents approximately $4.3 million in landfill dumping fees.

The 33 Lake County communities with an approximate 350,000 and 123,000 households reported the disposal of the remaining 94,904 tons of material at an average cost of $30.77 per-ton.

Each household in reporting communities recycled 56 pounds of material per month, of which 27 pounds was landscape waste.

The 1991 agency recycling report states the reporting communities had a range of collecting between 12 to 18 pounds of recycled materials per-person per-month, compared to an average of 19.2 pounds per day collected County-wide in 1992, or 56 pounds per-month per-household, Loughmiller said.

Carmel students travel to 'South Pacific'

The music department at Carmel High School has a treat in store for fans of musical theater. They have scheduled three performances of "South Pacific", at 8 p.m. April 15, 16 and 2 p.m. April 17.

Women of the '90s will enjoy Susan Highsmith of Mundelein in the campy role of Nellie Forbush.

J.B. Trexler of Lake Zurich plays charming Emile DeBeque, while Pat Blake of Wauconda is lovestruck Lt. Cable. Maggie Blake of Wauconda enjoys herself as Bloody Mary. Paul Roach of Libertyville is Luther Billis.

The performance is directed by Kent Parry and was choreographed by Susan Highsmith. Mary Solof is the drama coach.

Tickets are $5 for adults and $4 for students and senior citizens. Senior admission for the Sunday performance is $2. Tickets are available from Carmel drama and music students or by calling 566-3000, extension 348.

Murkey receives Red Carrison Award

The annual Red Carrison Award was presented to Eleanor Murkey by the Little Fort Lions on April 14, at their 21st Annual Charter Night held at the Parkway Restaurant.

Murkey is dean at the College of Lake County, Lakeshore Campus. She was recognized for her outstanding contributions of service over the past years. She has a philosophy: "If you want to learn about an organization or a person, volunteer your time to their cause." She has lived by that philosophy all her life.

This is the 17th year that the Red Carrison Award has been given to a Waukeganite for humanitarian services over and beyond the prime area of responsibility from whence income is received.

Red Carrison was a Waukegan Lion who served his community-exemplar.

Interfaith Chaplaincy services continues county ministry

At the annual meeting of Interfaith Chaplaincy Services (ICS) held at Church of the Holy Spirit in Lake Forest, ICS Director Dr. Ernest G. Hall reported chaplaincy services at Winchester House and Lake County Jail have been ongoing.

At Winchester House, high quality pastoral care is provided for elderly women and men residents under the guidance of Chaplain Fran Bates. Hospice care has been added to available services at Winchester as well as the formation of an ethics committee which assists residents, families and staff in difficult end of life decisions. Pastoral care volunteers, seminary students from St. Mary's and students from Trinity College are primary support staff for this very worthy ministry. Various area ministers and congregations throughout Lake County continue to provide assistance with church, Communion and memorial services as well as Bible study.

Men and women housed at the Lake County Jail in Waukegan have the opportunity to participate in Bible studies and weekly worship services. Over one-third of the jail population voluntarily attends in-house services each week.

The executive director also reported Interfaith Pastoral Counseling use increased sharply over the last year. This service provides affordable, professional help to those struggling with personal and family difficulties. Staff members are pastoral counselors certified through the American Assn. of Pastoral Counselors.

Officers and new directors were also elected at the annual meeting. Chosen to serve as officers were: President, Debra Phillips from Libertyville; vice-president, Gretchen Fisher from Vernon Hills; secretary, John Van Sant from Barrington; and treasurer Doug Mohler from Mundelein.

The following new directors were added to the current ICS Board: Marianne Fritts from Lake Forest; Mary Jean Gallagher from Waukegan; Linda McPherson from Waukegan; Becky Rockenbach from Grayslake; Lynn Rojahn from Lake Forest; Rev. Dan Spike from Barrington; and Rev. Ronnie Verboom from Mundelein.

Body

and taken to the Lake County morgue at 7:30 a.m. April 1.

Richardson said the body is been badly decomposed, with the teeth missing from the skull and portions where the skeleton is exposed.

Coroner officials tried to identify the person by the pair of "cargo-type" shorts, waist-size 36, which remained on the body, but have seemed to hit a dead-end.

Richardson said they checked through the mail-order manufacturer with the names of three men who had remained missing in the lake from accidents last year, and found none had ordered them.

Although they are an appropriate size of shorts for Mahmoud "Mike" Sadati, 42, of Barrington, Richardson said his wife did not recognize the clothing, so he would have had to have borrowed them, she added.

Sadati has remained missing since a boating accident on Lake Michigan involving himself and two other men, Michael Cherhavy, 45, of Barrington, and his son Christopher Cherhavy, 19, of Atlanta. The three went on a fishing trip on July 26, 1993, and were reported missing three days later. Christopher Cherhavy's body was discovered July 30, approximately five miles off shore in Kenosha, while his father, owner of the former Old Mill Nursery in Kildeer, was recovered approximately 38 miles northeast of Kenosha on Aug. 7.

Both men died of hypothermia and drowning.

Richardson said they also checked for Cherhavy's name in the mail-order company's list, and found he had not ordered them, nor did his family have any recognition of him ordering or owning the pair of shorts.

Also missing from a summer lake accident is Mark Brickman of Lake Barrington Shores. Richardson said he had not ordered the shorts nor would they have been an appropriate size for him.

AT A GLANCE

Village closes bar down

ROUND LAKE BEACH—Mayor Ralph Davis, acting as liquor commissioner, said the village revoked the license of Streamer's Sports Bar & Grill for numerous violations of liquor ordinances. Among the violations were drugs found in the bar, being open after hours, closing the curtain and refusing to let police in the establishment. Also the owner didn't live in the village as required by ordinances Davis said. Davis made the decision in a hearing after he had temporarily closed the bar pending an investigation of the violations.

Antioch woman pleads guilty

ANTIOCH—Elaine Ciborowski, age 53, of North Avenue in Antioch has plead guilty in U.S. District Court after been charged with defrauding Gladstone Norwood Trust and Savings Bank of $238,000 and causing losses of $55,000. Ciborowski was employed at the bank as a loan officer.

Unit school may go to vote

LAKE VILLA—Supporters of a combined kindergarten to 12th grade school district in Lake Villa Township are attempting to get the issue on the November ballot. The group is trying to get affected school boards to adopt resolutions to allow the district plan on the November vote. If unsuccessful, they will seek petitions from the voters, according to Joyce Henneberry, supporter of the referendum. She said the district still needs to work out details such as how to divide up the assets of the districts they are currently in and costs of the operation and construction of a new high school.

Governor coming to town

FOX LAKE—Governor Jim Edgar was to head north to be honored at a fundraiser in his name, where hundreds would gather. Although "Citizens for Edgar" volunteers in Fox Lake were supposed to keep the affair low key everyone would have a great and memorable time in the presence of the state head. "I'm very, very honored and thrilled that the governor is coming," said Fox Lake Mayor Ken Hamsher prior to the big event. Besides warming up to the governor and showing their support, the Chain O' Lakes Committee explained an important topic would be to promote tourism in Fox Lake.

Trustee opposes new fund

KILDEER—Although the approved village budget for fiscal year 1994-1995 shows a balanced budget, one village trustee voted against it because of the inclusion of amounts earmarked for miscellaneous reasons in the contingency fund. Budgeted at $75,000, with $58,570 for miscellaneous, Trustee William Pailey Jr. was opposed to the miscellaneous addition as it will allow them to be in excess of the balanced budget. Revenues are projected to come in at $832,925, with expenditures a little less at $830,509, amounting to an increase of 1.4 percent from the current fiscal year budget. The fund was included at the request of the finance committee.

Fire district has budget crisis

LAKE ZURICH—Like many other governing bodies in Lake County, the Lake Zurich Rural Fire Protection District is under heavy financial constraints and may go for a referendum to increase the amount it can tax district property owners. The district is currently taxing 22 cents per $100 equalized assessed valuations, one of the lowest among fire districts in Lake County, according to Jeffrey A. Sedlack, district treasurer, and is now under pressure to come up with enough money to afford a contract proposed by the Village of Lake Zurich. With revenues projected at approximately $900,000, the village budget calls for the district to pay approximately $975,000, an 11.5 percent increase from the current contract. The district is currently discussing the possibility of putting a referendum on the ballot, asking for either a bond issue for a third station or a tax rate increase to cover the shortfall, Sedlack said.

Villages vie over same land

HALF DAY—Vernon Hills or Lincolnshire? That's the question of approximately 40 acres of land in Half Day. Both villages annexed the same land, and both villages are waiting for a court decision to decide exactly which village can add the land to its village maps. The land in question is off of Milwaukee Avenue near Indian Creek. Officials from both villages remain steadfast that the land is part of their respective village. "What conflict? It's in the village of Lincolnshire," said Mark Weir, director of community development in Lincolnshire. Vernon Hills Village Manager Larry Laschen had the same response: "It's in our community." Both villages have exercised the required quo warranto action, which alerts the Illinois Attorney General of the conflict. The Attorney General has deferred the case to the courts. Both villages have also hired their own attorneys to handle the case.

Road expansion letter draws ire

GURNEE—Emotions ran high at a Gurnee Village Board meeting as Gurnee Mayor Dick Welton blasted an unsigned letter. The letter warned of Stearns School Rd expansion, suggesting Sunset Ave. would be better route. Political activist Lincoln Skalla denied writing the letter but said he distributed it. The Gurnee Residents Action Committee is not involved, Skalla said.

Long Grove seeks more police

HAWTHORN WOODS—The Hawthorn Woods Police Department could be lending its police protection to the Village of Long Grove. According to Police Chief William Urry, Long Grove officials approached Hawthorn Woods seeking possible police coverage. Currently, a Lake County Sheriff's deputy serves in the village for an eight-hour shift. All other times, Long Grove is on the sheriff department's general coverage.

SAVE YOUR FAMILY TIME AND MONEY

Do you know what "probate" is? It is the court process by which debts are paid and assets are distributed to heirs.

What can you do now so that your loved ones can avoid the costly and frustrating probate process? You can attend a FREE ESTATE PLANNING SEMINAR and learn how a living trust can work for your family. A living trust can be defined in simple terms as a will substitute, one that allows your heirs to avoid meeting a probate judge. As the trustee (financial manager) of your trust, you can continue to do the same things you did before the trust existed, such as buy, sell, or give away the trusts' assets. You set up your living trust according to your desires. You are in complete control.

When you consider the cost of a will and the fees involved in probate, as compared to setting up a living trust, the trust is a much more reasonable choice. It saves not only money, but time. Your heirs will not have to wait six, nine, or twelve months to receive what you have left them.

In Illinois, probate is required when the assets total over $50,000. The probate process can be quite costly, reducing the amount of assets that heirs receive. Attorney's fees, court costs and executor's fees can reduce assets that go to the heirs by as much as 10%. There is also a time delay, because the minimum amount of time that an estate would be tied up in probate court in Illinois is six months, but normally probate takes nine to twelve months, and sometimes longer.

A FIRM YOU CAN TRUST. Polster and Associates has prepared hundreds of estate plans for families in Illinois like your own. We invite you to attend one of our Free Estate Planning Seminars. We'll explain the disadvantages of wills and holding property in joint tenancy. You'll learn about the advantages of living trusts and how they work. You'll be informed so that you can make the best decisions for your family. Seating is limited, call (708) 223-9200. Do your friends a favor and invite them to join you.

PET OF THE WEEK

Barney looking for a home of his own

Barney is an attractive 3- to 4-year old male setter mix. He has a silky black medium length coat dusted with silver feathering. Here since October 1993, Barney was abandoned by his owner at the home of a friend. Barney was housebroken when he came here and sits on command. This is an incredibly sweet dog. Exceptionally friendly, Barney simply adores people.

Born with a missing left eye, Barney has a heart that's just bursting with affection. He is beautifully responsive, gentle and full of playful, puppy-like personality, but not hyper. Barney prefers to be the only dog, but may get along fine with a friendly female. He will bring you a unique blend of joyful friendship and outstanding devotion. They just don't get any sweeter.

Barney is available in Cage 45 for a $55 cash donation which includes collar, tag, leash spay/neuter, follow-up care, first shots and more.

Orphans of the Storm is located at 2200 Riverwoods Rd. in Deerfield. Hours are 11 a.m. to 5 p.m., seven days a week. Call 945-0235 for more information.

Conference encourages teens to open minds

High school teens are offered a chance to learn new skills, meet new people, share their talents, and just have a great time at the 1994 Illinois 4-H Youth Conference, scheduled for June 23 through 26, on the University of Illinois campus in Champaign-Urbana. The conference is sponsored by the Illinois Cooperative Extension Service 4-H Youth Program and is open to teens who are between the ages of 14 and 19.

"Opening Our Minds Puts the Future in Our Hands" is the 1994 theme, and this year's conference promises to help delegates open their minds to new ideas and experiences, and to prepare them to face the future with the skills and abilities required for the challenges ahead. Workshop choices include a wide variety of subject areas: career training; leadership development; friendship; relationships; self-esteem; animal sciences; astronomy; country line dancing; fashion and imaging; and global awareness, just to name a few. Delegates can choose either two 3-hour workshops or one 6-hour workshop.

Participants in the conference will also have the opportunity to share their talents in a variety show, meet other teens from across Illinois in workshops or at any of three dances, tour the University of Illinois campus, get a taste of college life, and hear state and nationally-known speakers and trainers.

Teen delegates are chaperoned by local adult volunteers who have been checked and screened by Cooperative Extension Service personnel.

Interested adults are needed to chaperone delegates and can contact the Cooperative Extension Service for more information.

Registration materials are available at the Lake County Cooperative Extension Service office located at 100 S. Rte. 45, Grayslake. Registrations are due by May 16. Conference registration is $100, which includes three nights of lodging, insurance, seven meals, entertainment and speakers, workshop materials, three dances, and a pool party. A generous portion of funding for the Illinois 4-H Youth Conference is provided by the Illinois 4-H Foundation.

For further information about the Youth Conference or other 4-H programs, call the 4-H Office at 223-8627.

Letter Carriers will sponsor food drive

Branch 409 of the National Association of Letter Carriers, in conjunction with the U.S. Postal Service, the Lake County AFL-CIO and the United Way of America will be collecting non-perishable food items on May 14 for distribution to food banks in local communities.

Place a food donation by your mail box on Saturday, May 14. Your letter carrier will pick it up and deliver it to the food banks.

Local post offices and city delivery areas cooperating with Branch 409 on the food drive are: Antioch, Fort Sheridan, Fox Lake, Glencoe, Grayslake, Great Lakes, Gurnee, Highland Park, Lake Bluff, Lake Zurich, North Chicago, Ravinia, Round Lake, Wauconda, Winthrop Harbor and Zion.

Help the Letter Carriers and the cooperating organizations help some of the less fortunate people in our community.

Carmel magazine receives 'superior' rating in contest

"Harbinger," the student magazine of Carmel High School, has been awarded a "superior" rating by the National Council of Teachers of English. Carmel is one of 876 schools nation-wide to enter the NCTE's 1993 competitive Program to Recognize Excellence in Student Literary Magazines. The "superior" classification means that "Harbinger" met criteria of a quality magazine, including outstanding writing, excellent editing and high-quality design. The editor of the 1993

"Harbinger" was Michael Clune of Mettawa, now attending Oberlin College in Oberlin, Ohio.

Staff members included Tienne Spiteri of Long Grove and Jason Gola of Ingleside, who are co-editors this year.

Carmel Scholarship recipients named

The recipients of the 1994 Mary Frances Clarke, BVM Minority Scholarships have been announced by the Rev. William J. Harry, O. Carm., president of Carmel High School.

The four students receiving the $1,000 awards are: Emily Bautista, an eighth grader attending St. Joseph School in Libertyville, and daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Honofre Bautista of Gurnee; Marc Casarrubias, an eighth grader attending Transfiguration School in Wauconda, and son of Mr. and Mrs. Joel Casarrubias of Wauconda; Thomas Cooper, an eighth grader attending St. Mary's School in Fremont, and son of Mr. and Mrs. Ronald Cooper of Grayslake; and Patrick Reyes, an eighth grader attending St. Mary's School in Buffalo Grove, and son of Mr. and Mrs. Marcelino Reyes of Buffalo Grove.

Awards were based upon test scores, essays written by the student and recommendations of the students' teachers/principal. A four person committee made the recommendation to the president of the school.

"Again, this year, we were very impressed with the quality of the candidates and the care with which they completed the application process," said Fr. Harry. "We look forward to working with these candidates in the years to come."

The Mary Frances Clarke, BVM Scholarship is named in honor of the foundress of the Sisters of Charity of the Blessed Virgin Mary. It bears her name because of her commitment to education, especially that of members of minority groups. A grant of $50,000 was made by the Sisters of Charity of Dubuque, Iowa, to endow this scholarship. Interest from this gift will be used to award the scholarships.

Carmel is a four year, college preparatory high school and is the recipient of the National Exemplary School Award from the U.S. Dept. of Education. Students come from over 50 communities through Lake County as well as eastern McHenry and northern Cook counties, and southern Wisconsin.

Scouts seek 'Women of Distinction'

Moraine Girl Scout Council is accepting nominations for their "Women of Distinction" awards, which will be presented at a banquet on June 2 at Allgauer's Fireside Restaurant in Northbrook. Awards will be given in the areas corresponding to Girl Scouting's Worlds of Interest: Well-Being, People, Today and Tomorrow, Arts and Out-of-Doors.

Anyone may nominate an outstanding, creative woman who has contributed to society in one of these areas and who lives or works in the Moraine Council areas (Northbrook and southeast Lake County). The deadline for nominations is April 22. Call Moraine Girl Scout Council at 945-7750 for complete criteria, nomination forms, or more information.

Knows him

Hey, I know that cop in heat who works the Lindenhurst beat. Don't ask how, don't ask me why, but he got me out of a DUI.

Paint your towers

Hi, I am from Oakwood Knolls in Antioch and want to know when they are going to paint the Antioch water tower on Anita Street. It sure needs it.

Cleaning house

Hello, who would like to give appreciation to the Round Lake Beach Board of Trustees on their firing of Police Chief Jablonski? We think the next step is getting rid of the mayor. Thank you.

The dirty rats

About rats. Remember you heard this from S.D.R. Having been on numerous construction sites as well as living on a livestock farm for years, I have but rarely come across a rat. When I have, they have been the black rats, 8 and 1/2 inches in length. Times have changed. Last Saturday in Lake County towns I saw two large brown rats. Since then, I have counted hundreds of dead, large, Norwegian rats throughout the county along the roadside. On Route 12 alone, I counted over 35 dead rats on that stretch of highway. These are not muskrats. Laugh as you may, most people do, but this is a gruesome reality. Those who are not laughing, take a count of your own and call in your response. Rats carry over 35 diseases and their ticks generated the bubonic plague.

All paid up

The students who already went through Gavin deserve more. Free, high quality education, that is the law in Illinois. But, Gavin has some of the most incompetent teachers in the county. While Illinois is a high taxing state, we rank 47th in returning money to the school. That is your problem Gavin. Get your money elsewhere. Our taxes are already paid.

Costly rental

I recently rented a computer instead of purchasing one. I was not happy with both the cost or the service when it broke down. Before you rent, consider all the costs and reconsider purchasing.

Weighty matters

Hello, I am calling from Antioch about my neighbors. Some of them are a little careless on garbage pick up day. It would be nice if everyone would weigh-down their recyclable newspapers to keep them from blowing down. It is easy and it really helps. Last week it was really terrible. A little cooperation and we will all be better off instead of the huray for me the hell with you attitude.

Hates him

I am from Island Lake. This is for the wife of the ex-police officer in Wauconda. Don't you have any self respect to get rid of the slime ball? He is just going to keep making your life a living hell.

Needs help

How many times does a person have to go to the Wauconda Police Department crying for help before it is too late?

Gutless

I am from Wauconda. The ex-police officer from Wauconda is a gutless piece of work of a man. To date a woman and be married to a woman. Then, harass the other woman? This is gutless.

Thanks

Hi, I would like to thank the Lake Villa Highway Department for another excellent season of effective snow and ice control. Thanks also for the much needed sweeping. I live in West Millmore.

Hates news

I have never read your paper before and subscribed when you had your year long offer. I gotta tell you, it is pretty disappointing. If I want to know anything about voting or a cop named Jablonski I could find out all about it. Aren't there any interesting people or things in Round Lake? This is the most boring paper I have ever read in my life.

A mistake?

I just got my paper and reading Lipservice about Kutchski. The idiot who called this in should know they meant another trustee. Get your facts straight.

Gender correction

I am calling from Lake Villa and I have a bone to pick with your staff reporter Steve Peterson. In a recent article he refers to a 30 year-old male as a man but two females age 21 and 23 as girls. He does it twice in one article. What gives Steve?

Editorial note: Dear reader, we caught that too but for some reason the changes were not made on the final copy. Sorry.

They are worth it

In rebuttal to the comment, "Pay his bill," I just want to say that I think our children are worth tax dollars. I do not live in an apartment or a converted summer home. You do not have all the details. The tax rate would be increased, but only slightly. What price tag do you put on your children?

Come up with solutions

I am calling about the Gavin School referendum. I understand there are some people who cannot afford the increase. I would like to see those people come up with some ideas to deal with the school problems.

Editorial note: Dear reader, your call was cut off for some reason. Please call back with your complete message.

Thanks GRAC

I speak for a large majority of residents of Gurnee who are sick and tired of the pro-development administration ramming all these subdivisions down our throats. I would like to thank the Gurnee Residents Action Committee for their hard work and effort in stopping, for the first time, a subdivision and an annexation agreement from being implemented. Keep up the good work GRAC. We are behind you.

He called it

I would like to know when the Antioch News Reporter turned into a written Geraldo show? Do we have to be subjected to this trash these people call in with? Not only do I subscribe to this trash paper, I am calling you, an even bigger waste of time. This is a dumb thing. So print this because you have never printed any of the other dumb things I have called in with.

A joker

Hey this is Steve. Did I get any messages?

She asked

I just got back from a meeting of the Round Lake School board. I am really upset with how they are treating their employees. I just found out they now want to get rid of their bus drivers and bring in a bus service. I am upset because the same bus driver has been driving my kids for years. I like the service I have. I also saw a bunch of ladies wearing buttons that said "Ask Me." So I asked them and they said they were school secretaries and had not had a raise in three years. That's awful. What are you going to do? Wait until it is an empty building? Come on Round Lake, wake up.

Mad at Judy

I just attended a Waterway Management Agency meeting and I have a real gripe about the attitude of Judy Martini. She sits there chewing gum, whispering like she is in high school. Judy, grow up. The rest of the board is professional. This ain't high school. You are not worthy. Try acting more professional.

Wants sidewalks

I am a very concerned parent of Grayslake. I don't understand why there are no sidewalks put in on Route 83. Especially after school, I see young children walking down the street. I see cars flying by and actually saw a child fall into the street. Luckily, he wasn't hit. Why aren't there any sidewalks put in?

A yes vote senior

To the person who wrote mad at seniors, I do not know who you are or how old, but I am 66 years old and I voted for the ACHS referendum. You better remember one thing, as long as we have politicians and school boards who think they can spend as much money when and where they please and not use it wisely, we will always have people voting against them. Remember too, once the tax gets on it never gets off.

Mad at boats too

To the senior citizens of Antioch, I am paying for your social security. There won't be any when I retire. So you can chip in for my children's schools. For those of you who voted for the Chain O'Lakes Waterway, are boats more important than our children?

Pictureless

I am calling about the award show for the young authors in Big Hollow School. They took a group picture of the winners. They were all excited about being in the paper. But, the group picture never showed up. Only the big winners. You had lots of pictures of roller skating.

Editorial note: Dear reader, despite all of our best efforts sometimes we are not able to get all the pictures we take into the paper either because the pictures do not come out well or a lack of space. Sorry you were disappointed.

Cuneo plan just more of sprawl

Public reaction to The Zale Group's long awaited plan for development of the 1,200 acre Cuneo estate is running the gamut from disappointment to underwhelming. There are ample reasons for the generally negative reaction to plans for development of one of the county's premier pieces of real estate.

There is little to regard as creative or innovative in the plan presented by Zale, a major residential developer in northern Illinois and southern Wisconsin.

Zale is promising a 204 acre golf course described as "championship" caliber, a couple of small lakes and 71 acres of park space. These key components may have been regarded as innovations in the 70's and 80's, but in the 1990's these features don't even qualify as staples.

The developer is offering the golf links, lakes and the park space as a magnet to sell 2,130 housing units. Zale designers are providing for a housing range of $200,000 to $1 million custom homes. In a sea of rooftops, more than few observers at an initial public hearing wondered what happened to the upscale housing originally envisioned for the legendary estate annexed by Vernon Hills following a tussle with Mundelein and Libertyville.

There already is public disagreement with Zale's figures on how many students the development will foist on already overcrowded Libertyville High and Hawthorn elementary, which is on the state watch list. High school board president David Ransom was ridiculed when he asked if some of the Cuneo property could be earmarked for a second site.

A statement by Zale's vice president that the developer is prepared to donate $2,100 per dwelling for schools was received with disbelief by a majority of the onlookers, who are well aware that it costs more than three times that much to educate a child for one year.

Boiled down to its essentials, the Cuneo plan resembles something out of the dark ages of development. Later Levitt comes to mind. The development's main thoroughfare is even being referred to as a "collector street" by planners.

Officials of Vernon Hills, the corporate authorities for granting zoning and building permits for the priceless property, hardly drew deep breaths as they voted unanimously to endorse Zale's concept, a first step in the approval process.

What neighbors fear the most is that the illustrious Cuneo Italian Renaissance residence, now a public museum, will become but an isolated jewel in another expanse of urban sprawl.

Dominance of GOP still unchallenged

Despite a rapidly growing population with significant demographic shifts, politically, Lake County continues to be one-party territory. Republican.

An analysis of the recent primary election and subsequent party reorganization provided no significant shifts in voting patterns. If anything, the primary showed that even the GOP needs the prod of a hot local contest to get voters to the polls in a primary. Thus, Antioch and Libertyville townships, where there were key County Board contests, produced the heaviest Republican voter turnouts this year.

Democrats continue to be Shore Line based—blue collar Waukegan, North Chicago and liberal Highland Park. This focus is underscored by how leadership was selected in the bi-annual reorganization process. Only a couple of minor party posts were entrusted to non-Shore Line residents.

Republican insiders shook off a challenge from a party independent to insure election of Dr. John Schulien as their new county chairman. As the former central committee secretary and an adherent of "top down" leadership, Schulien can be expected to follow a "steady as she goes" course. GOP unknowns and workers outside the inner circle still find the going rough in party affairs. As county Republican loyalists are wont to say, "You gotta be prepared to carry water for the elephant if you want to get ahead."

Unless Republicans take a summer sabbatical, Democrats at all levels in a majority of Lake County precincts can expect tough sledding in the November general election.

—Viewpoint— Bumbler Bill eclipses growing Hilliary crisis

Publisher

Little by little, the pieces are falling into place that could either bring down or redirect the presidency of Bill Clinton.

Conventional Wisdom has it that Whitewater in itself isn't a big enough scandal to unseat a chief executive. But who can find anything than the seamy Arkansas land deal that better encapsules or defines the early Clinton years?

Standing out in the host of pieces is the once mesmerized press that is slowly awakening; the raw arrogance of graduate students in high places of government; the embarrassment being experienced by the grown-ups of the Democratic party; the first lady's unquenchable thirst for power; a capitol awash with cronies from a single party third rate state who seem bent on turning Washington, D.C. into Little Rock East. And, above all, a president with monumental conceit who thinks there is no end to the ways the American electorate can be manipulated or deceived.

Political pundits who are convinced that Americans vote their pocketbook see a second term for Clinton because of the unfolding of a strong economy. The flaw in this thinking is that the president was elected with only 43% of the popular vote. He can hang on to this support (improbable), add to it substantially (not likely) and still be defeated for reelection.

Mark Helprin, a contributing editor of the Wall Street Journal, has provided an excellent analysis of the state of affairs of a nation being led by America's odd couple. It's recommended reading if you still can find a copy of the March 25 WSJ.

Helprin indicts the current administration as unadulterated fraud—"pious, tawdry, financial, sexual, political, plain, simple and habitual."

In skewering the Clinton presidency on a lance of deceit, Helprin saves his most telling shots for "the assumption by Hillary Rodham Clinton of the powers of an office to which she did not accede...." Helprin says that "were it not for the fact that the president's own party dominates Congress, the press, the universities, public education, Hollywood, publishing, local and state government, the unions and bureaucracies everywhere," would be declaring Mrs. Clinton's domination a constitutional crisis.

Because of the preoccupation of the seats of power with other things, the First Lady's unprecedented usurpation of authority is being overshadowed by mere scandal in the White House. The nation isn't the better for Hillary.

—LETTERS TO THE Editor—

County voters not ignorant

Editor:

Considering the multiple mailings I received on the Juvenile Center and the inundation of press coverage, I take offense at the inference that the 71 percent of the voters in Dist. 18 who voted against it didn't know what they were doing! And that those who oppose Grainger and all the over-development in Lake County don't know what they're doing!

We know exactly what we're doing, but some county officials just aren't getting the message! And you're either refusing to listen or don't care to listen.

I suspect that McRae, Paulson and Field heard the message loud and clear! I can only hope that Newton, Depke and Neal, et al, are beginning to listen as well. Too little, too late for them, but you have to wonder who's next!

With the county having received an average increase in tax dollars of 11.7 percent per year for the past 10 years, well in excess of the inflation rate, and with traffic, pollution, crime, etc. rising all the time our tax dollars are going up, the message seems clear to me.

We're fed up with all of it! Stop wasting money, stop the rampant development and start doing a better job of managing both. Don't expect us to continue to open our wallets every time the hand comes out!

Beware of Rte. 41 killers

Editor:

The weather is getting nice and the killers are back.

I'm talking about the most inconsiderate driver that I have ever seen. He hauls very heavy loads of gravel, sand, rock and dirt. The faster he goes, the more trips that he makes, the more money he is paid.

From Rte. 173 to the north, to the south until it ends, at this time of the year Rte. 41 is a death trap. I personally travel this road each and every day of the week, and I'm sad to say that I have seen many deaths caused by the gravel truck driver. More than once, I myself have had close encounters with these inconsiderate drivers.

These vehicles out-weigh our cars by 100 to 1 when full. As they approach intersections with changing lights they usually accelerate and go flying through. Sometimes, the light has already changed and a car is in that intersection, and it is too late, and the person or persons in that car are usually killed.

Nothing is being done to stop this slaughter. Why?

Watching the cream rise

Editor:

The conduct of several candidates in this recent primary election was a great disappointment to me and many other Lake County voters.

Campaigns based on personal character defamation, innuendo and outright lies should not and cannot be tolerated in our election process. What has happened to professional conduct and the debate of issues? The thought of individuals who indulge in this abhorrent conduct being in the position of authority chills the soul.

I want to congratulate County Board Member Bob Neal, Sheriff Clint Grinnell and Congressman Phil Crane on their victories as well as their refusal to allow their campaigns to fall to the level of their opponents. Eleanor Rostron recently said, "The cream will always rise to the top"...For once we are in agreement Ellie!

Whitewater not serious

Editor:

Everytime I turn on the tv or radio lately, I hear about Whitewater, which happened about 14 years ago.

Why don't Bob Dale and his political friends do their job and get it over with. Let the president take care of real serious business, like over 200 Catholic priests in Red China jails.

Start looking seriously at North Korea before they jump the 38th parallel again and kill 40,000 American Servicemen stationed there.

That is something that the American people would take an interest in, not Whitewater. Who cares about that?

-PARTY LINES-

New Fed executive knows GOP politics

Party Lines, the Lakeland Newspapers column of political commentary, is prepared from staff reports.

Arlene Genell has made-to-order qualifications for executive director of the Lake County Republican Federation.

Genell has experience in county government with nine years in the Planning, Zoning and Environmental Quality Dept., first-hand knowledge of what it's like to be a candidate for public office and she's a loyal Republican, with grassroots background as a precinct worker in Vernon Township.

Genell

Above all, the Buffalo Grove resident has no aspirations for running for office. "I don't think so," Genell replied when asked about another run after a close defeat two years ago at the hands of David Stollman for County Board from a south Lake County district.

Good Friday provided Genell a much-needed breather that saw her take over the Federation post, become a grandmother and work with a host of primary candidates all within a matter of weeks.

Genell and her husband have three grown children, daughter Kate Burns, the new mother; son Bill, a former Waukegan detective who now is with a suburban Minneapolis police department, and son James, an advertising professional.

Rock 'N' Roll—During part of Vernon Hills bullish budget hearings, village trustees talked about doing something special for the seniors via the Senior Citizens Advisory Committee. One suggestion was buying a karaoke machine to add a little spunk to senior gatherings. Village President Roger Byrne liked the idea so much that he offered to break-in a new karaoke machine by singing the first song "as long as they have 'Wully Bully.'" Maybe trustees should consider buying a karaoke machine just to hear Byrne's rendition of the 1960s popular hit.

New chairman—Nancy Masterson of Barrington was replaced as Cuba Township Republican chairperson by Ed Suchy, long-time precinct committee-man. Ditto for Fred Bingham, a strategist and political consultant, who was replaced in Wauconda Township by Gary Reynhout. Masterson was an unsuccessful candidate for a GOP nomination for state representative in 1992.

Close call—Donna-Mae Litwiler, former County Board member and one-time power in Lake County Republican Central Committee politics, had a close call hanging on to her post as Grant Township chairperson.

Litwiler survived on a vote of 7-5, mostly on the strength of being able to appoint three new precinct committee captains to fill vacancies. Veteran committeemen reportedly are tired of Litwiler's leadership style based mostly on a lot of talk and only a little action.

Good start—Despite a $75 per person handle, ticket sales are getting off to a good start for the Lake County Republican Federation's 32nd Annual Spring dinner, Friday, April 29, featuring Congressman Newt Gingrich as keynote.

The dinner, Lake County's biggest political splash of the season, will be held at Marriott's Lincolnshire Resort. For a $250 ticket, you can be designated a party patron and get a closer seat to the speaker's table.

Last frontier—"We're one of the last frontiers," said Volo Trustee Bill Grams. Volo, the old yet newly incorporated, small yet swarming with business-person town has just erected one of the four signs which will be going up throughout the village. "Why are the signs so big? (you ask)," said Trustee Grams of the 10 foot by 30 foot billboards. For two reasons. "We're a new village and we want everyone to know there's a new village called Volo. And number two, because we're recently bypassed." Rte. 120 is now called "Old Volo Village Rd." with the bypass being "new Rte. 120." Grams added, "We're one of the smallest villages in the state and we want the largest signs. This village thrives on 'retail.'"

Dispute settled—Lake Zurich residents may get the chance to go back to Breezewald Park this summer and bask in the lakefront sun as they did in the '40s and '50s. A settlement has been reached between two individuals regarding ownership of the five-acre parcel located on the east side of the village's namesake lake. Both parties have indicated to village officials a willingness to sell the land to them. Residents approved a $1 million referendum in 1992 to pay for the land, but negotiations have been stalled due to the lack of a "clear" title. With the case being dismissed in Lake County Court on March 28 and awaiting the signatures of the two principal parties, the village may be one step closer to providing its residents with another public beach. Village officials have had their hands tied, watching from the sidelines as two individuals battled their land dispute in a Lake County courtroom, with the outcome being who gets to sell a five-acre parcel of lakefront property back to the village.

Federal government offers flood insurance for midwest residents

In the Midwest, millions of people are hoping this spring will be much different from the spring of 1993. Last spring devastating floods ravaged dozens of communities located along the Mississippi and Missouri Rivers and their tributaries. As warm weather and spring rains return, folks in the midwest look nervously at weather reports. Of 11 million properties located in the flood area, fewer than two million—about 17 percent—carried flood damage.

"People don't have to be financially devastated by a flood," states Roger Lutz, an agent for American Family Insurance in Grayslake. "While homeowner's policies do not cover damage from floods, there is a remedy: the National Flood Insurance Program (NFIP) administered by the Federal Emergency Management Agency (FEMA).

According to Lutz, the first step in purchasing a flood insurance policy is to contact your insurance agent to see if your community is participating in the National Flood Insurance Program. The next step is to meet with your insurance agent and determine the amount and type of coverage options you wish to purchase under NFIP's "Write Your Own Policy."

While the NFIP is a federal program, "We act as agents for the federal program and handle the paperwork," Lutz says. Of the 2.6 million flood policies in force today, almost 90 percent are issued by private insurance companies through the "Write Your Own" program. The average cost of a flood insurance policy is about $300 for $87,500 of coverage on a single family home. Coverage for business and renters is also available.

The NFIP offers more coverage than federal disaster relief. The maximum disaster loan you can get is $120,000 for a home and its contents and $500,000 for a business. Flood insurance pays a maximum of $245,000 on a home and $550,000 for a business.

"People can buy flood insurance at any time, even during a flood. There is a five day waiting period before an NFIP policy goes into effect, and losses in progress are not covered," says Lutz. "Limited basement coverage is available through NFIP and should be looked at when you purchase your flood insurance."

There are other measures consumers can take to protect themselves during flood season. First is knowing an area's risk of flooding by checking with local emergency government or the planning department. Household projects include remodeling with water-resistant products, raising furnaces and appliances and relocating the electric panel to a higher location. Insurance policies, important documents and photos should be located in a safe-deposit box. If it has been raining hard or continuously for several days, be alert to the possibility of a flood.

While a flood "watch" means that a flood is possible in the area, a flood "warning" means that a flood is already occurring or will occur soon in the area. If told to evacuate, do so as soon as possible. When a watch has been issued, move furniture and valuables to a higher floor in the house. Keep a disaster supply kit ready at all times.

The kit should include: first aid kit and essential medicines; canned food and a can opener; at least three gallons of water per person; protective clothing, rainwear, bedding or sleeping bags; battery-operated radio, flashlight and extra batteries; and special items for infants and elderly people.

Young child celebration being planned

The Child Care Coalition of Lake County will be celebrating the Week of the Young Child by having a special event at the Gurnee Mills Mall of Sunday, April 17.

The event will be held at Gurnee Mill's stage area, adjacent to the parking area "H." Beginning at 12:30 p.m., there will be ongoing live entertainment until 3:30 p.m. A variety of children's performers will be on hand, including: The Ashton Marionettes; Tamburitians, a Croation Folk Group; Truly Remarkable Loon, juggling; and Joel the "Partysaurus," a singer who uses participatory methods with the audience. Dick Reynolds, harmonica player, will entertain and act as Master of Ceremonies. For more information about the coalition or the Gurnee Mills event, contact Charlene Ackerman at the Kennedy Child Care Center 473-9088.

PET OF THE WEEK Adolpho, a face everyone can love

Who couldn't love a face like this? Adolpho stands out in a crowd because of his unusual markings and loving personality. About 5-years-old, he has a lifetime of love to share.

FIRST HOME GIVES SENSE OF LUXURY, INDIVIDUALITY

Stonebrook Townhouses offers easily customized homes in four basic layouts. The airy dining and living area of the Keys' home, left, is brightened by whites and pastels and a two story arched window.

BILL DERMODY JR.

Staff Reporter

When Khyle and Alicia Keys decided to buy their first home, they knew money would be the limiting factor.

The couple met at Northern Illinois University, and were married less than two years ago. After renting an apartment in Wheeling, the two decided they would rather buy their own home. Like many newlyweds, though, they didn't have the money for a large down payment.

Enter Stonebrook Townhouses in Gurnee.

Located on Grand Avenue, the townhouses enabled the Keys to step into an easily customized unit with only four percent down.

"We saw the billboard and decided to look into [the homes]," said Khyle. "We were really impressed with the layout and build quality."

When they moved in, the Keys' home was the only unit on the block.

Light woods and whites dominate the decor (above). "We bought our couches first. Everything else had to match," explained Alicia. The Keys chose a railed banister, left, instead of a half wall to give a sense of openness.

From AT HOME page B10

"We knew ahead of time that our street would eventually be filled, but when we moved in, there were a lot of foundations and piles of dirt," said Khyle, although their unit had already been sodded. Now, the street is a complete neighborhood.

"There is a variety of families," said Alicia. "Some are older couples, and some have high school aged or younger children."

The homes, which feature a tall, two story living area window, offered an opportunity to personalize otherwise similar units. Choices of carpet, fixtures, and cabinets are left to the owners, and four basic townhouse styles are available to build upon.

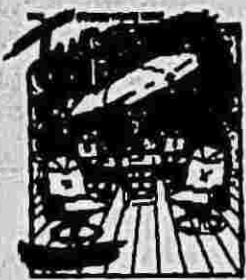

The Keys chose an open, airy layout. The front door opens to a bright living and dining area, with a high cathedral ceiling leading the eye upwards to the second story loft. Whites and muted pastels prevail through out the house.

"We didn't take a lot of liberties with the decorating," said Alicia. "We went with white. We bought our couches first. Everything else had to match. I guess you could say we built around our couches."

To the rear, a counter separates the kitchen from the living room. The Keys chose their cabinet and appliance colors, again going primarily with white.

A half bath and laundry room leading to the garage complete the first floor.

A winding stair leads to the second floor loft. Here, the Keys chose a wood railing rather than an optional half wall, in order to give a sense of openness. The result is a breathtaking view of the dining area and lawn through the arched front window.

The second upstairs bedroom is now a computer room. The master bathroom divides the master bedroom from the rest of the upstairs area.

The effect of the layout and decor is an impression of a much larger home.

"My mother called it a mini-multimillion dollar home," said Alicia.

Although the proximity to Grand Avenue might seem like a potential problem, the Keys view it as an asset.

"Traffic can be hectic in the morning during rush hour, but generally it's not too bad. Also, we're set back far enough from the road that we don't get any traffic noise," said Khyle. Alicia pointed out that being near the tollway makes trips to Chicago easy.

The couple say there are few problems with their new home. There is not a lot of closet space in the model they chose, said Alicia. "And we still don't have cable," added Khyle. For a new building, though, the two say the house has been relatively trouble free.

Although the couple shares their home with three cats, they say they will need a larger house when they start a family. For the immediate future, however, they have a home tailored to suit their needs.

Avoid costly mistakes by selecting correct carpet

If you've been shopping for carpet lately, you know all too well that the carpet buying process isn't easy. Faced with a seemingly endless selection of colors, fibers and carpet styles, many find the carpet buying process confusing and time consuming. It doesn't have to be!

A little knowledge about carpeting before you buy can make a big difference in avoiding costly mistakes and selecting the carpet that best meets your needs and expectations.

HIGH PILE LOW PILE

Good carpet must not only last a long time, but appearance, retention, style, color coordination, comfort and easy maintenance are all listed as important factors in carpet performance.

Today's Lake County consumers expect that carpeting will last. They are looking for a carpet that will look new years from now; one that will be comfortable and fashionable and easily maintained.

Today's carpet consumers are every bit as discriminating as fashion conscious clothing shoppers, and they'd better be. They'll have to live with their carpet a lot longer than their clothing. In fact, with today's advanced manufacturing processes and space age fibers, the family usually tires of the carpeting long before it wears out.

A consumer has to be well informed to avoid choosing the wrong type of carpeting for a room. A number of decisions should be made before going shopping.

Topping the list is the specific applications for the carpet. Different uses require different characteristics. For example, a soft, luxurious feel is highly desirable in the bedroom, and durability and easy maintenance are crucial factors for the family room, hallways and basement. Various combinations are needed for living and dining rooms depending on the traffic patterns in each room. After deciding on the carpet's application, a consumer should examine specific carpet qualities.

With two basic types of construction, four main fiber types, and seven different style types, a consumer faces 56 choices before quality, comfort and color even enter the purchase equation. Add pile height and density, twist and backing, and you have a computer-sized calculation to make before considering which color would best match the burgundy polka dots on the wallpaper in the little girl's bedroom.

Actually, a consumer who understands the basics of carpet fibers and manufacturing techniques is well prepared to choose carpet that will perform best for his or her specific needs.

Fiber choice is important and should be based upon intended use, appearance and cost. Carpet yarn or fiber includes nylon, polyester, polypropylene and wool, and can either be tufted or woven. The differing properties of each fiber type offer advantages over others, depending upon where the carpet will be used.

Most carpets on the market today are made from synthetic fibers. Nylon has excellent durability, abrasion resistance and is very resilient. Polyester has natural stain and static resistance. Polypropylene is light fast and resists moisture.

Stain and soil resistance along with color clarity are essentially functions of the carpet fiber. Good carpets will carry a label on the backing which should be checked for stain and soil resistance and warranty protection against wear and static. If no such label is present or the warranty is inadequate, beware of the carpet's performance.

Fiber is only one consideration in carpet selection. Construction, or how well the fiber is put together with the backing, is the difference between good and poor quality carpet. This difference is measured in pile density, pile heights and twist levels.

Pile density is the most important of these three. It refers to the space between individual tufts or loops of yarn that make up the carpet pile. Dense carpet packs more fiber into the backing. A dense pile wears longer, resists crushing and matting better, and retains its texture longer.

Closely packed pile helps resist stains and dirt by keeping them on the surface of the carpet where they can be easily removed.

Pile height is also an important gauge of carpet quality. In carpets of equal density, the one with lower pile will generally perform better.

With most custom pile constructions, twist level and twist stability are also important considerations.

Carpet yarn is formed by twisting two or more yarn strands together before tufting. The tighter the twist the better a cut pile carpet will perform.

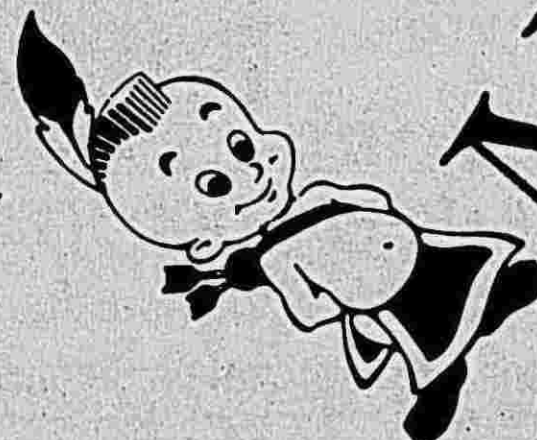

A close look at individual tufts of yarn should reveal neat, tight and well defined tops of individual yarn. If they are loose and flared rather than tight and neat throughout, then the carpet will likely not perform well.

Perhaps the most important factor in cut pile constructions is heat setting. Heat setting gives the yarn a twist memory to stabilize it, which results in longer wear and better performance. Make sure the twist has been heat set before buying the carpet.

Although the choices are many, you can select carpet that will provide long-term satisfaction.

Easy to build gardener's potting workbench

Here's a potting bench large enough to handle all your gardening chores, yet so simple to build that even an "all thumbs" carpenter should have no trouble assembling it. The bench top, which is 27 inches wide by 60 inches long, provides ample room for re-potting plants, sowing seed flats and mixing potting soil.

The workbench is designed with two shelves below for storing your extra pots, fertilizer, potting soil and gardening tools. Raised edges on the shelves keep supplies in place.

For ease of construction, the bench is built entirely of standard size western lumber. To build it, you'll need 62 lineal feet of 2x4 for the top, legs and frame, and 65 feet of 1x4 for the shelves, shelf supports and retainers. You'll also need carpenter's glue and galvanized nails or rust-proof screws for the assembly. (Tip: drywall screws can reduce splitting when screwing into end grain).

For the top frame, cut two lengths of 2x4, each 51 inches long, and two lengths 26 1/2 inches long. Glue and nail pieces together to form a rectangle 26 1/2 inches wide by 54 inches long.

Cut four lengths of 2x4 for the legs, each 35 inches long. Attach the legs to the inside corners of the frame, placing the wide side of the 2x4 on the long side of the frame. Join with glue and 2 1/2-inch nails or 2-inch screws. To brace the legs (and provide support for the lower shelf) attach a 23 1/2-inch length of 1x4 to the inside of the legs at each end, six inches above the floor.

For the top, cut seven 2x4s, each 60 inches long. Space boards evenly across the frame, allowing about 1/4 inch between boards. Using 8d nails, fasten the boards in place. The top extends three inches beyond the frame at each end, and is flush with the frame on the front and back edges.

Mark the insides of the legs 18 inches above the floor and attach the second set of 1x4 shelf supports. To finish the shelves, cut ten lengths of 1x4, each 51 inches long. Spacing them evenly between the legs, attach five 1x4s to the lower shelf supports and five to the upper shelf. Ends will extend 3 1/2 inches beyond the supports, flush with the outside of the legs.

To keep supplies corralled, fasten a 1x4 "retainer" across the back of the shelves and to both ends. Nail the 1x4s to the legs and shelf ends. You may also want to add a 1x4 across the back of the bench top to keep dirt and tools from disappearing.

For extra stability, nail a 1x4 diagonally across the back.

Finish the bench with paint or stain. Or, to retain the natural color, apply a clear, water-repellent finish. If you plan to leave the bench outside year-round, use western lumber that's been treated with a preservative to resist weathering. Treated wood may be finished in the same manner as untreated wood.

For more home improvement ideas, write to Western Wood Products Assn., Dept. HI-790, Yeon Building, 522 SW Fifth Ave., Portland, OR 97204-2122.

A potting bench, built with economical western lumber, is every gardener's dream. This do-it-yourself plan offers more than 10 square feet of work surface, plus storage space for gardening tools.

Take time for model home tour

The 1994 Lake County Tour of Homes offers prospective home buyers a wide variety of benefits. According to Orren Pickell of Orren Pickell Builders, "Touring model homes in different communities is one of the most valuable and productive experiences a prospective home buyer can have."

1. Variety of home styles and types. The Lake County Tour will feature model homes by virtually every major builder in Lake County. There will be more than 50 models of single family homes and townhomes to view.

2. Models in every price range. Homes in this year's tour will range in price from the low $100,000's to over $1 million. There will be something for everybody, not just a few "dream homes" beyond the reach of most.

3. Different communities. The location of a home can be as important as the home itself. The Lake County Tour covers a wide variety of communities in Lake County and surrounding areas. On tour explore schools, shopping, recreational facilities and other factors that influence your lifestyle.

4. Lake County Tour is free. There is no admission charge to view any of the model homes on the tour.

The 1994 Lake County Tour of Homes will be held June 11 through 19. The location, names and prices of homes and developments in this scattered site event will appear in newspaper ads prior to and during the tour. For further information call the Home Builders Assn. of Lake County at 816-4663.

Orren Pickell Builders presents a Georgian Classic for the Home Builders Assn. of Lake County's 1994 Tour of Homes. The 3,800 square-foot custom residence is located on a 3/4 acre site in Libertyville's River Bend community. Highlights of this classic beauty include expansive living and dining rooms as well as great room with see-through fireplace to charming study with cherry wood bookcases. Kitchen features include cherry cabinets and walk-in pantry. Baluster bridge overlooks the great room. Large master suite has a spectacular bath area. There are two more baths and three additional bedrooms on the second level. High quality craftsmanship and attention to detail can be seen on the inside and outside of this beautiful home.

How to create welcoming first impression of homes

Create a welcoming first impression of your home by thoughtfully planning the decor of the foyer. Entrance areas should be interesting and present a preview of what's to come. Here are some do's and don'ts to help make your foyer memorable and flow with the rest of the house.

• Do use a mirror, a handsomely framed mirror over a chest or table is always appropriate.

• In situations where the front door opens into the living space, create a foyer with a mirrored folding screen.

• Do something dramatic with the walls. Splurge on an exquisite wallpaper. Choose a wallpaper that introduces the colors and mood of your home.

• If the opening to the adjacent room is wide enough, consider portieres; panels of drapery hung at a doorway.

Follow these do's and don'ts and you will be well on your way to having a grand entrance that will make a lasting impression.

Decorating plan

Planning is the best present you can give your home, no matter how large or small your decorating budget.

There are plenty of major changes you can make with minimal effort and expense. Wallcovering is the means of achieving the maximum effect for the minimum dollar spent.

If you long for beautiful, elaborate window treatments but can't afford them just yet, why not create them in stages? Start out with an under treatment that works well alone like mini-blinds. Later you can combine them with the overdrapery and a clever top treatment for a luxurious, layered effect. Once the foundation is in place, your room already looks better and you can add the finishing touches when the budget allows.

Whether you are just "sprucing up" a little or undertaking a major redecorating project, the key to success is planning.

Chef's delight

The kitchen is becoming an important social spot for both family and friends. That's why more homes focus on this room. But while opening the kitchen into other rooms brings family and friends closer together, it also creates a decorator's challenge—how to coordinate rooms while making sure each retains its individuality. To achieve this, select one color to pull from room to room, or choose one wallcovering in the kitchen and select a coordinating border for the adjoining family room. And an informal window treatment, such as a tapered valance, is great in the kitchen, while balloon shades in the same fabric can dress-up a sunroom or family room.

You may want to give your kitchen a quick face-lift. Try adding brass knobs to the cabinets or painting them entirely. New placemats and napkins or seat cushions add a lively splash to any kitchen. Enhancing the warmth and comfort of your kitchen will cascade throughout the rest of your home.

Homeowners can start 'primping' now to lure spring buyers

The secret to marketing a home is to provide a good impression that makes the home seeker want to stay, to return and, ultimately, to buy. The familiar term is "curb appeal," but it refers to the definite "yes," "no" or "maybe" response that both the outside and inside of a home inspire.

Spring fervor will replace the winter doldrums and renters—especially first-time buyers—will be out in force. An added incentive is that many apartment leases will expire at the end of the school year.

The would-be home seller can do necessary interior primping and spruce-up chores now. For the most part, putting on the home's best face for showing takes more time than money. Here are a few tips:

- Brighten the interior, since darkness shrinks space and light expands it. Position lamps to brighten dark corners and replace burnt-out bulbs.

- Repair damaged tiles in the kitchen and bathrooms.

- Repair and repaint cracked walls.
- Correct leaky faucets and any other plumbing problems.

- Remove stains from toilets, bathtubs and sinks, using special cleaning compounds.

- Thoroughly clean all kitchen surfaces, including the stove's ventilating hood, oven and grill.

- Repair any cracks in the basement floor, using ready-mix concrete.

- Make sure that all doors open, close and lock freely, and that all hardware is securely fastened.

- Clean soiled carpeting and check that tread plates are tight.

- Since you expect would-be buyers to be traipsing through the house soon, accelerate your own spring cleaning process. Clean closets, garage, attic, basement and other storage areas where debris tends to accumulate. Clean draperies and wash the sheer curtains. Eliminate cobwebs and wash walls and floors.

These common-sense ideas to spruce up a home's look anticipating the visit of prospective buyers, not only will improve your home's salability but will give you a head start for an easier move.

A few outside chores will complete the picture. For examples:

- Make sure that landscaping is attractive: lawn, shrubs, leaves, branches and an absence of litter.

- Be sure that bicycles, skateboards and other toys are not cluttering the front of the house, sidewalks or driveway. Don't park cars in the driveway or in front of the house; this takes away from the "curb appeal." And always keep the garage door closed.

- Depending upon need, consider giving the exterior of the house a fresh coat of paint, or at least touch up the trim. Also check gutters and downspouts for any needed repairs.

- Repair any cracked or broken windows and inspect all screens for tears, holes or other damage.

Color can set right mood in decorating ones home

When planning a new kitchen or bathroom, certain considerations come to mind, such as placement of appliances, cabinet styles, countertops and flooring. And although the color of your room is not critical to its design, it will set the mood and theme of the room.

Before you can choose a color, you must first understand it.

Objects exhibit color because of the manner in which their surfaces reflect and absorb light. White, for example, is a mixture of equal parts of all colored wavelengths; and black is the virtual absence of all color.

There are three categories of color. Primary colors—red, yellow, blue—from which all other colors originate. Secondary colors—green, orange, violet—which result when two primaries are combined. Tertiary colors—yellow-green, yellow-orange, red-orange, red-violet, blue-green—which are derived from the combination of a primary and secondary color.

Colors are important to kitchen and bathroom planning because color schemes can adjust the visual perception of an overall space.

Used in a specific way, color can expand, shrink, shorten or lengthen a room. It can even be used to conceal an undesirable feature in the room.

For example, light colors can be used to decrease the weight of an object and therefore increase the overall perception of the area. Use dark colors to increase the weight of an object and to decrease the spatial perception of the total area. Use the same color throughout an area to camouflage structural problems.

Another key consideration in the selection of a room's color scheme is the emotion or behavior that particular colors may provoke. Every color has some type of emotion or feeling tied to it.

An intense red color, for example, can be distracting if used in large amounts. It attracts attention, causes excitement and raises blood pressure. However, tints or shades of red used in smaller amounts can create a warm rich feeling.

The color that the eye sees the fastest is yellow. Soft yellows can be cheering and feel sunny. Bright yellow, as an accent, attracts attention and brightens a room. Use in large amounts, yellow can be over stimulating.

The color green is viewed as a pacifier and associated with nature. It can be relaxing and reassuring. Pale tints of green conjure images of growth, while deeper hues are associated with status and wealth.

Another calming and relaxing color is blue. Lighter values of this color evoke an airy and open feeling. Darker blues are reassuring because they are representative of wealth, strength and respect.

A noble color in its deepest values is the color purple, which is also viewed as flowery and refreshing in pale violet hues. Although deep purple is rarely used in large amounts, it can be used to great effect as an accent color.

The color orange may be stimulating, as in pumpkin orange, or warm as in terra cotta and peach. As with other intense colors, it can be distracting, but it is ideal for attracting attention to detail.

White can be sterile, airy and refreshing, depending on what other colors are used with it. It can make small spaces seem larger and more open.

Frightening, exciting, elegant, and rich all describe the color black. Like white, it is a color of contradictions that depend largely on the effect of other colors used with it. Black can make a large space seem smaller and more intimate.

By neutralizing a color, you can also neutralize its psychological effect. Neutral colors are less demanding and can be ideal for applications where over stimulation is not desired.

It will allow you to be more creative and flexible in choosing your accessories, and they can become the focal point of your room. The possibilities are endless.

Color revives old patio furniture

Consumers want design ideas that extend their living space beyond the walls of their homes. And they reportedly are looking for more than dime store chaise lounges and folding chairs. They want color and comfort combined with interesting design. Many manufacturers have responded with trendy, expensive new outdoor furniture lines. Here are money-saving tips for using your creativity to make your own trendsetting outdoor furniture.

Start by examining your outdoor spaces to determine what you need. Consider space, use and color. Then hit your neighborhood garage sales in search of treasures: rusty wrought iron and metal patio furniture, from tables and chairs to love seats and benches; beat-up wood sun lounges and planters; and discolored sun dials or statues.

The greatest thing about finding an old set of lawn furniture to refinish is that you can go crazy with color. Picture this, bright yellow wrought iron patio furniture cushioned in a black, white, yellow and green floral print. Or how about baby blue Adirondack chairs cradling puffy white cloud pillows?

Try your hand at these techniques:

- Masking. Create stripes, diamonds, nearly any straight-sided shape simply by using masking tape and paper to outline your design and protect the surfaces you want to be another color.

If you're painting metal furniture, be sure to use a rust-inhibitive paint and, to save a step, look for paints like DAP DeRusto with built-in primers.

- Stenciling. Why should stenciling be only an indoors and country project featuring ducks and hearts? You can stencil geometric shapes or even a family insignia onto metal front porch chairs.

To speed up the job, use a quick dry enamel paint like DAP Spray-N-Go. These paints dry in as little as 10 minutes, allowing you to do the base coat and stencil coat in only about 30 minutes.

- Antiquing. The old technique of streaking stain over paint can get a new twist from two coats of spray paint. Create texture in the second coat by dragging a wire brush through the wet paint or blotting it with a dry sponge.

The key is to have some fun with it. The bargain basement price you can get on furniture at garage sales is you license to experiment. All you need is masking tape and paper.

Even when painting outside, protect the area beneath and around your work area—spray paint particles drift.

And you should not use metal furniture on a pressure-treated wood deck. The metal that comes in contact with the wood can react with the chemical treatment, resulting in rust stains on your deck. Instead, opt for wood or plastic furniture to decorate your deck.

American National Bank of Libertyville announces its great Equity Credit Line deal.

- ✓ No closing costs.
- ✓ No application fee.
- ✓ No annual fee the first year.
- ✓ Low interest rate based on total equity credit line.
- ✓ Tax-deductible interest.

Look around at other banks, and you'll probably find an Equity Credit Line with some of these advantages. But, with an Equity Credit Line from American National Bank of Libertyville, you get them all.

So affordable, you can't afford to pass it up.

Right now, there're no closing costs, no fee to apply and no annual fee for the first year.

When you borrow, there's a money-saving difference. We determine your interest rate by the size of your credit line, not by how much you borrow. Rates can be as low as Prime.* As you know, Prime is at the lowest it's been in years.

And don't forget the possible savings on April 15. The interest you pay may be fully tax-deductible. (Please consult your tax advisor.)

American National also offers a fixed-rate Home Equity Loan with fixed monthly payments and no closing costs. See a Personal Banker for details.

You can't afford to wait too long.

We don't think you'll find a better deal. But hurry, this is a limited offer available only until April 15, 1994. Stop in either Libertyville office today, or call us at (708) 816-4000.

*Your annual percentage rate (APR) varies based upon the current prime rate as published in the Money Rate Section of The Wall Street Journal. Any changes in the prime rate will take effect on the first day of the next month. The prime rate on 04/04/94 was 6.25% and your APR could have been between 6.0% and 7.5% depending on your credit line. The maximum APR that can apply is 18%. After the first year, an annual fee of $25 will be charged. Final approval depends on your credit standing, household income, financial record and current appraisal of your home. We require that you carry insurance on the property that secures this plan.

Helpful tips for buying homeowners insurance

If shopping for home insurance confuses you, take heart. Here are some helpful tips from the Insurance Information Institute:

- Ask friends or relatives to recommend insurance agents or companies from whom they have had good service. Or check the yellow pages of your telephone book for insurance representatives in your community.

- Phone or visit several insurance representatives. Take along your household inventory and photographs. Discuss any concern you have about special coverage for furs, jewelry, antiques or other valuables. The representatives will recommend coverages to suit your needs.

- Consider the largest deductible you can afford—that's the amount of any loss that you agree to pay. The higher the deductible, the lower the premium.

- Compare costs and coverages. Remember to consider the service reputation of the insurance representative or company.

Your responsibility as an insurance consumer goes beyond deciding which policy to buy. To get the best value for your insurance dollar:

- Read your policy so you'll know exactly what it covers and what to do if you have a loss.

- Inform your insurance representatives of additions to your house and of all major purchases so that your insurance coverage can be kept up to date.

- Report all claims promptly and accurately. If you have questions about your policy, your coverages or claim, ask your insurance representative.

Preserve golf courses attract wildlife

ALEC JUNGE
Staff Reporter

Lake County Forest Preserve is providing entertaining golf and at the same time giving birds places to nest.

As part of a national program designed to make golf courses more wildlife friendly, the forest preserves' Countryside and Brae Loch golf courses, have joined forces with the Audubon Society and the United States Golf Association to take part in the Audubon Cooperative Sanctuary System project.

By joining the nationwide effort, Countryside and Brae Loch will expand their ongoing efforts to enhance wildlife habitat on the golf courses and preserve natural resources for the benefit of golfers and the community.

Some of the cooperative projects include placing nesting boxes for bluebirds and swallows in open spaces on the golf courses, conserving water and maintaining food and cover for wildlife. Preserve officials hope their efforts will become home to even more wildlife species.

"We are doing what we can for wildlife and to find places for them to live," said

Tom Morgensen, superintendent of golf courses.

One of the main efforts this year is to entice bluebirds to come to nests specially made for them. About 20 specially designed birdhouses have been made for the project.

"We are trying to bring them back. They need open spaces away from the heavily forested areas for a longer runway and to keep them protected from predators," Morgensen said.

The design of the structures makes it difficult for predators such as squirrels and raccoons to get in them. Also the preserve is planting shrubs near the trees as a place the bluebirds can teach their chicks to fly without the young ones getting hurt.

"We hope to see the bluebirds by early April. Some have returned in the other forest preserve areas," Morgensen said.

The Audubon Cooperative Sanctuary System project was developed by the New York State Audubon Society to help private businesses use their property to benefit wildlife.

The society reviews the site information and makes recommendations to the golf course.

"We send them information on how to make their course more ecologically sound with suggestions on using less pesticides and conserving water," said Marla Briggs, assistant ecologist for the Audubon Society.

Briggs said 850 to 900 golf courses are in the certification process and only 11 are fully certified. Each course decides how many of the recommendations it can afford and how much of them they will implement.

The preserve areas are in the beginning of the process. To get higher on the list, the preserve is using areas in the golf course which don't get use such as behind the greens and tees. Native grasses such as little and big blue stem are being planted in these locations.

"We don't mow it from fence line to fence line. In some areas we are planting prairie grasses," Morgensen said.

Morgensen added turning Countryside into a golf course has helped bring wildlife to the site. "We have improved the quality of the wetlands by opening up the land and enhanced wildlife by making a golf course."

Cuneo Museum to come alive

CLAUDIA M. LENART
Regional Editor

The Cuneo Museum and Gardens is seeking 1920s history buffs to re-enact the mansion's early days and give tour-goers a living glimpse into the lives of the wealthy Insull family who built the mansion.

The 32-room mansion with its 75-acre grounds was transformed into a museum three years ago when the Cuneo family donated it to be run as a non-profit organization. A mainstay of its existence has been tours of 18 rooms filled with art treasures including Renaissance paintings, 17th century tapestries, oriental rugs and antique furniture.

Now, the museum is ready to offer visitors a unique experience which will give them a more intense feeling of what life was like in the mansion's early days.

"I was trying to think of a way to keep the exhibits from getting static. The only way I could think of is to bring the characters to life," said Barbara Hirschfeld, director of the Cuneo Museum.

The re-enactments are being arranged by Mariko Ventura-Flood, creative coordinator for the project. Ken Smouse, one of the founders of PM&L Theatre in Antioch and a former Antioch High School drama teacher, will be assisting with the project.

The re-enactments will center on three characters — Samuel Insull, the first president of Commonwealth Edison, his wife, Gladys, who was a flamboyant actress, and Benjamin Marshall, a prominent Chicago architect who designed the mansion.

The parts will have a loose script, yet the characters will also be versed enough in history of the mansion and time period to be able to improvise, interact with visitors and answer questions. Ventura-Flood likened the experience to the Bristol Renaissance Faire in Bristol, Wis. where actors remain true to character and converse with visitors about Queen Elizabeth's England.

"We're setting a scenario. What we're writing are opening lines and lines when one person hands the tour over to another," said Smouse, who has been researching the characters and writing the lines.

Visitors will first stumble upon Samuel Insull who will be talking on the phone. Samuel will tell the visitors about the ship room, actually made from an old ship. Samuel will hand the tour over to the architect Benjamin Marshall who will talk about the Great Hall. Gladys, who was an actress, will be found reading a script in the ballroom.

Smouse said one of the most challenging aspects is trying to determine how the characters will react and interact with the guests. He has found a wealth of information on Samuel Insull. There's less information on Gladys and Benjamin Marshall.

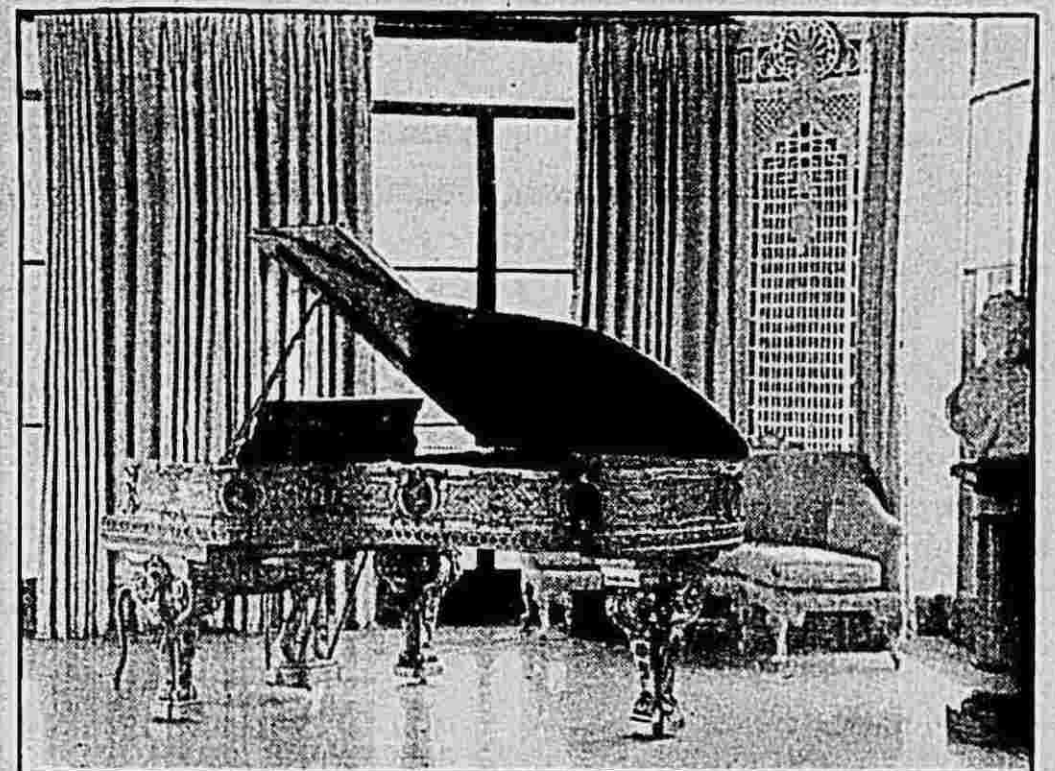

"It's been fun trying to determine what might happen," said Smouse. One of the glitches they have run into is figuring out how the Insulls will talk about additions to the house put in by the Cuneos, who lived in the mansion from 1937 to 1990.

"When they comment on the Cuneos they'll be referring to them as 'the people who bought the house,'" said Smouse. The actors will need to go back and forth in time. It will be like doing a ghost story, said Smouse.

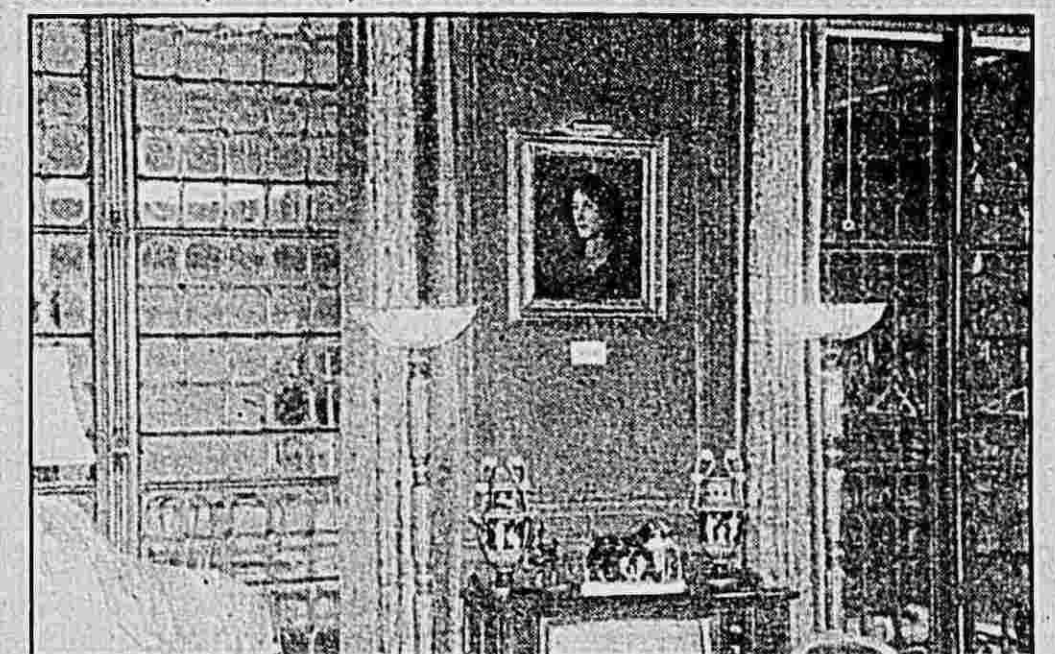

"It will be like bringing them back from the past, so they can relive for a little while," said Ventura-Flood.

Samuel Insull was a supporter of the arts and built the Civic Opera House in Chicago. Since Smouse is involved in the Bowen Park Opera Company, there is some talk of incorporating operatic singers into the opening night event.

One of the exciting things about the re-enactments is that they can do so much with them. Characters they would Mike Clark as Dodger and Rachel Benjamin as Bet, in Oliver.

'Oliver'

Northbrook Theatre will be offering the Broadway favorite, "Oliver" by Lionel Bart. Part of the wide appeal of this tuneful hit is perhaps the theme of family and finding a place to belong - as illustrated by the famous hits from "Oliver," "Consider Yourself" and "Where is Love."

"Oliver" will run Fridays, Saturdays and Sundays April 22-May 8. Tickets are $12 at the door or $10 paid in advance. Senior and group discounts are available. Call 291-2367 for more information.

'Foftales' at Stage Two

This spring, Stage Two brings the stories of Aesop to life, with a rollicking musical rendition of his best loved fables, "Foftales." Author Charles Pascoe weaves six Aesop fables into a fun-filled dramatization of the adventures of Sonny Fox.

Stage Two's second children's show of the season, "Foftales" chronicles Sonny's travels as he sets out to find out about the rest of the world.

Sonny plays tricks on the animals he meets in the forest without realizing the hurt he is causing. He steals cheese from the Crow, gets the Rooster to jump into the well and serves the Stork her favorite dinner on a plate from which it is impossible for her to eat. Eventually, these three team up to each Sonny a lesson about the importance of friendship and working together. When Sonny takes these other animals home to meet his father, they encounter another lesson in overcoming prejudice.

The play is directed by long-time Stage Two director and Children's Program Coordinator Norma Cribb.

"Foftales" will have public performances on Saturdays April 30 and May 7 at the Stage Two Theatre. Showtimes will be 10 a.m., 1:30 and 7 p.m. Tickets are $3 and reservations can be made by calling 662-7088.

There are also performances for school groups held (by special arrangement) on the preceding Thursdays and Fridays, April 28 through May 6. Study guides are provided free of charge to educators or group leaders bringing groups of 10 or more.

Children's classic tales

"Be careful Red Riding Hood!"

In this tale of Little Red's journey to Grandma's the animals of the forest take sides and make this play a showcase for goodness over evil. The children's classic, by modern Russian Playwright Yevgeny (translated by George Shail) will be presented at Drake Theater.

Tickets are $4. Performances are scheduled for Saturday and Sunday, April 9 and 10 at 1 and 4 p.m. at the Drake Theatre, 700 East Westleigh Road, Lake Forest. For information call 295-2620.—

Pompeian salads, a healthy choice

CLAUDIA M. LENART

Regional Editor

As the weather warms, or at least tries to, and the scenery begins to green up, our appetite cravings tend toward the green also.

The people who make cholesterol-free Pompeian olive oil offer a couple of mouth watering salad recipes. Just the right flavor for a warm spring day.

Pompeian Mixed Salad

1 head curly endive	Olive Oil
2 cucumbers	2 tablespoons Pompeian Red Wine Vinegar
8 mushrooms	2 tablespoons cream
2 carrots	1 tablespoon Dijon mustard
1 bulb fennel	salt and fresh ground pepper to taste
6 tablespoons Pompeian Extra Virgin

Wash endive and dry thoroughly. Trim the stalks of mushrooms, wash well and place in waer with lemon juice to prevent discoloration. Peel and slice cucumbers, sprinkle with salt and drain for 30 minutes. Finely chop fennel, chop carrots, then mix all ingredients in a large bowl. In separate bowl, mix the oil and red wine vinegar, cream mustard, salt and pepper. Sprinkle on salad when served.

Spinach Salad with Italian Sausage Pompeian

4 cups packed, stemmed, spinach, torn into bite-sized pieces
1 teaspoon Pompeian Extra Virgin Olive Oil
4 hot Italian sausages
3 green onions, sliced
3 tablespoons Pompeian Red Wine Vinegar
1 tablespoon Pompeian Extra Virgin Olive Oil
1 teaspoon Dijon mustard salt and freshly ground pepper to taste.

Place spinach in a large bowl. heat 1 teaspoon extra virgin olive oil in heavy large skillet over medium heat. Add sausages and cook until browned and cooked through. Drain sausages on paper towels and then slice 1/2 inch thick. Heat drippings in skillet over medium heat. Add green onions and stir 1 minute. Add Pompeian Red Wine Vinegar and bring to a boil, scraping up any browned bits. Mix in 1 tablespoon olive oil and mustard. Add sausage and toss to coat. Season with salt and pepper. Pour over spinach and toss.

Doings at Disney World

by JIM WARNKEN, PRESIDENT
NORTH STAR TRAVEL, INC.

There's always something special going on at Walt Disney World in Florida, but there are some events you may want to plan your vacation around.

On April 23 the likes of Troy Aikman, John Elway and Warren Moon will compete for $125,000 in the NFL Quarterback Challenge Vacation.

Better Homes and Gardens is sponsoring an International Flower & Garden Festival April 29 through June 5, where you can visit gardens representing eleven nations as well as attend seminars and presentations.

May marks the opening of two new Disney hotels.

The All-Star Sports Resort, Disney's first economy resort hotel, opens May 1 with rooms from $69 per night.

Also opening in May is Disney's Wilderness Lodge, a luxurious replica of a turn-of-the-century National Park Lodge.

June 10 to August 20 is jazz time at Disney's Epcot Center when famous jazz artists salute Duke Ellington.

Ever wonder what it would be like to drop 13 floors in an elevator? Just visit the "Twilight Zone Tower of Terror" opening July 1 at the Disney-MGM Studios.

Sure it's spectacular, but it's the famous "Disney Magic" that makes Disney World's 4th of July fireworks display one you'll long remember.

Wine connoisseurs from around the world gather at the Disney's Yacht and Beach Club July 14-17.

If you want to know what your Disney memorabilia is worth, ask the collectors at the Disneyana Convention Sept. 8.

October 6th marks the 24th Annual Walt Disney World Golf Classic.

Lastly, if you like jazz and wine, on November 11 Disney hosts both a Jazz Festival and the Festival of Wine Masters.

Potesta's Pizza

Despite the name, there's a whole lot more than pizza and pasta at Potesta's. Conveniently located at 101 Townline Rd. in Vernon Plaza, it's the perfect place to stop for lunch or dinner on a busy day.

Begin your meal with one of Potesta's large assortment of appetizers. For those who can't decide, the Starter Sampler offers a taste of mushroom, zucchini, mozzarella sticks and calzone bites.

For a pizza treat, try thin crust, deep dish butter crust or a gourmet pizza crowned with your choice of 17 toppings, in sizes from 8-inch individual to an extra-large 16-inch family size.

Pasta dinners include Italian favorites like lasagna, manicotti, ravioli and mostaccioli as well as fettuccini and spaghetti. Diners may add meatballs or sausage or opt for Chicken Parmigiana or Chicken Alfredo. A Pasta Sampler offers a mini calzone, fettuccini Alfredo and ravioli.

On the lighter side, a dozen varieties of specialty sandwiches will tempt almost any appetite. Italian standards share the menu with four different chicken recipes, ham and cheese and a delicious hot sub. Those who prefer salads won't be disappointed; Potesta's offers not only a great chef's salad in two sizes, but a tasty Caesar salad with or without chicken.

Those on the run will save time and money at the lunch buffet, from 11 a.m. to 1:30 p.m. weekdays. It's an all-you-can-eat bargain at $4.95.

Lunch or dinner may be accompanied by a variety of soft drinks or something from Potesta's full-service bar.

Potesta's has a banquet room to serve up to 60 people. Many customers have taken advantage of their popular all-you-can-eat-and-drink party plan. Potesta's will cater your event anywhere.

For those too busy to drop by, Potesta's will deliver anywhere in the Libertyville, Mundelein, Vernon Hills area. Call 680-7777.

OF THE WEEK

No struggle at Struggles

Whether it is breakfast, lunch or dinner, fine dining is no struggle at Struggle's Restaurant in Antioch. With their legendary breakfast bar, salad bar, and delicious entrees, you just can't go wrong.

Starting off the day, Struggles has a huge Sunday breakfast buffet for only $5.95. The buffet has almost every breakfast treat you can imagine, and a few you may not even thought of. The buffet consists of a huge variety of breakfast entrees. And, of course, it is all-you-can-eat.

During the week, Struggles is still a great place to start your day. For the heartier appetites, try the all-you-can-eat pancakes or biscuits and gravy. Another great eye-opener, the two eggs with ham special, includes potatoes and toast for only $1.99.

Lunch time offers a salad bar for only $1.50 with a sandwich order. Burgers are a half pound of choice sirloin beef, char-broiled to order, served thick and juicy. With over 10 toppings to choose from, Struggles serves a hamburger the way they were meant to be served.

Other luncheon specialties include croissant sandwiches, clubs, Ruebens, corned beef, prime rib sandwich, French and Italian dip, chicken and barbecue beef. Lighter fare includes healthy salads, light sandwiches, and soup and the salad bar.

For dinner, make sure to try Struggles famous ribs. Their sensational rib special includes a half slab of ribs, served with stuffed potato with cheese sauce and your choice of bacon, broccoli or mushroom. All dinners include the huge 25 item salad bar.

Italian delights, seafood, chicken, and beef are all included in the Struggles dinner collection. On Friday, don't miss the fish fry with all-you-can-eat fish.

Pizza lovers are not neglected at Struggles. Offering both thin crust and double decker, Struggles provides over 10 toppings to choose from.

Gather for good times in the Struggles Lounge. Drink specials are offered daily, free appetizers, just augment the great time you will have.

Struggles is also offering Plan-A-Party. Accommodations for up to 50 people are available and you can plan a menu specifically tailored to your special party.

Struggles is located at the corner of Routes 173 and 59, just around the bend. To make reservations, plan a party, or for more information call 395-9400.

Movie Picks

Howard has another headliner

We consider Ron Howard's latest effort, "The Paper," to be one of the most enjoyable movies we've seen in the past few months.

This story of the inner workings of a mediocre city daily tabloid, using one story and taking place inside of one 24-hour span, is working at all times. The action starts even before the opening credits are complete, and stops just before the closing credits, all reminiscent of the newspapers of the "Windy City" era.

Michael Keaton is great as the glib metro editor bent on getting one particular story for the Page One headline, but not so devoted to that story lead that he wants to let it go to press whether the story is wrong or right.

Glenn Close plays the executive bitch devoted to the bottom line—not the news. Robert Duval is the rather stereotyped manag-

"The Paper" is full of laughs and action and this spells lots of entertainment, despite its predictability, so we're giving it 4.5 out of five stars because it's refreshing to be just entertained instead of taught, lectured to, or amazed. —by GLORIA DAVIS

HOROSCOPE

ARIES (March 21 to April 19) Mix-ups in business communications are par for the course early in the week. It's not a good time to get your thoughts across to others. Friends and money don't mix. This weekend is lovely for fostering romance and getting together with friends and family.

TAURUS (April 20 to May 20) It's a week to get more than one estimate for needed household repairs. Extra self-discipline will be needed to handle the week's work load. Partners are in sync. Your social graces are an asset to you in business this weekend.

GEMINI (May 21 to June 20) Pay extra attention to details on the job. Don't skim the surface. Avoid hurried judgments about investments. Your intuition brings you valuable answers to something which has been puzzling you for quite some time. Exercise discretion.

CANCER (June 21 to July 22) Try not to let daydreaming interfere with accomplishment; buckle down. Though pleasure interests aren't especially favored, couples are on the same wave length. Home-based activities are favored over outside entertainments for the weekend.

LEO (July 23 to August 22) Unexpected developments at work may cause a change in some social plans. Responsibilities arise in connection with partnerships. In general, it's better this week to visit with others than to have company over. Singles will meet with romantic introductions through friends.

VIRGO (August 23 to September 22) Distractions may be a problem early in the week. Patience will be needed if faced with delays at work. You could receive recognition soon for work done in the past as well as new opportunities that will spell a better future.

LIBRA (September 23 to October

22) You and a relative may not be on the same wave length this week. Guard against misunderstandings. Keep spending within affordable limits, despite some temptations. An opportunity for a lovely vacation trip is likely to come soon.

SCORPIO (October 23 to November 21) You may have difficulty making up your mind about a financial concern this week. Family members make demands on your time now. However, the latter part of the week finds you quite creative. You will find a happy solution to an old problem.

SAGITTARIUS (November 22 to December 21) Don't let a small concern interfere with partnership harmony this week. A backlog of paperwork needs handling now. Private pursuits bring happiness. Benefits come through friends now and couples are as one. Socializing is a plus.

CAPRICORN (December 22 to January 19) You seem a bit scattered early in the week and may not accomplish as much as you would like in your work routine. Stay on top of bookkeeping. A meddling friend may get on your nerves but don't pay much attention to this.

AQUARIUS (January 20 to February 18) In business, you may be trying too hard and stifling your intuition. Relax and then ideas will come to you. Although you have to be on your toes at work, happy social developments will make the week special for you. Some fall in love.

PISCES (February 19 to March 20) Early in the week, you may tend to be withdrawn and given to worry. However, you will snap out of it before week's end. Getting travel plans organized is difficult this week but on the home front, things should be wonderful.

Grand Bank celebrates merger

WAUKEGAN—On April 14, Grand National Bank's employees will hang up their bankers' suits for pairs of walking shoes. As part of a week-long celebration in recognition of the bank's recent merger, the employees will participate in a "walk-'til-they-meet." The employee walk is set to begin at 4:30 p.m., at the bank's two main offices: Waukegan, at 2323 W. Grand Ave., walking westbound on Grand Ave., and Gurnee, at 4840 Grand Ave., walking eastbound until the two groups meet at the town's borderline on Grand Ave. Leading the walk will be the Webster Middle School marching percussionists joined by McGruff the Crime Dog and WXLN radio, at 6:00 p.m. The parade will be broadcast live. Brad Nickerson, president of Grand National Bank, states "The employee walk is symbolic of the marriage between the two banks and their shared market area." Gurnee Mayor Richard Welton and Waukegan Director of Government Services Donald Weakly, will meet the group in Magic City's parking lot located at 3400 Grand Ave.

Home show to offer ideas, prizes, food

SUZIE REED

Staff Reporter

A sure sign of spring is the 3rd annual Lake County Home Improvement Show, scheduled for April 9 and 10 at the Mundelein Holiday Inn. More than 50 exhibitors are expected to offer ideas on everything from hot tubs to housecleaning along with door prizes and free food.

"The unique thing about our show is that we don't sell food—we GIVE it away," said Henry Krippner, chairman of the Libertyville-Mundelein-Vernon Hills Chamber of Commerce.

The LMV Chamber is sponsoring the event which is expected to draw 3,000 to 4,000 residents looking for ways to spruce up their homes.

Exhibits will include displays on gardening, landscaping, home decor, floral design, security systems, garages, cellular phones, storage and utilities. Visitors will also find information on mortgages, carpet services, rental equipment and heating and air conditioning. Exhibitors include Ace Hardware and Builder's Square.

Three booths will offer complimentary snacks supplied by Gung Ho, Ruby Tuesday, the Buffalo Bar and Grill, Bill's Pizza and Pub, The Olive Garden and Lambs Farm.

The $1 admission tickets will give visitors a chance at numerous prizes offered by the exhibitors. One grand prize offers a dinner and one night's stay for two people at the Inn of Chicago.

The show runs from 10 a.m. to 4 p.m. both days. For more information call 680-0750.

Barron Paint offers wide selection, good prices

KEVIN HANRAHAN

Staff Reporter

"Service, pricing and selection"—those are the three main ingredients that has allowed Barron Paint and Home Decorating Center to grow by 40 percent each of the last four years since its opening.

Scott Brummel and Phil Simpson teamed up together in 1990 to establish Barron Paint and it's been booming ever since.

"I knew paint and he had retail experience. It was a perfect bond," said Simpson, who was a painter for 15 years in the Chicagoland area before starting his own business. Brummel had managed various small businesses before teaming up with Simpson.

The two chose Grayslake because of its central location and because of the development explosion in the area in recent years.

Simpson simply said, "We saw that there was a need," a need that they are trying to meet with more than 10,000 gallons of paint in stock, rental equipment available and a newly designed wallpaper and window treatment center.

The wallpaper and window treatment center, which is managed by Chris Gelden, was redesigned to include wallpaper in stock. Previously, customers had to page through catalogs to make an order which could take a week before arriving.

Now, people "who are in a hurry can come in, buy it and hang it up," Simpson said. "A lot of people are ready to do it themselves."

Brummel said the two things that separate Barron Paint from the retail giants such as Kmart or the home improvement centers such as Builders Square are consistent quality paint and paint expertise.

"There are specific kinds of paint for specific kinds of jobs," Brummel said.

He added that one of the home improvement centers (whose name is being withheld) called Barron Paint looking for advice.

He said the bigger chain stores are notorious for having young employees work in their painting departments who do not know anything about paint.

That's why, he said, professional painters, who generate two-thirds of Barron's business, regularly come to Barron to purchase their supplies.

"The most expensive part of the job for them is to have to come back and do it again," Brummel said. "They can't afford to do a job again."

Furthermore, he said, "if I were going to take the time and effort, I would want to do the job right the first time."

"We work very hard to satisfy people," Simpson added.

And they must be satisfying a lot of people because Barron Paint continues to grow. Both said that maybe within the next five years they will have another store at a different location or at least a store that is larger than their current 3,000 sq. ft. store.

Their clientele come from all over the area including Antioch and Libertyville. Some come from Chicago, while others come from Wisconsin as well. Brummel even said they have a customer from the Virgin Islands.

Although they do some advertising, their reputation was built largely by word of mouth.

"Our whole philosophy is to keep our customers," Brummel said. "It's a lot cheaper to keep a See BARRON page C5

Smart tips for rehab's

Spring is a great time to check out those house advertisements for "fixer-uppers" and "handyman" specials. This can be a terrific opportunity to get into home ownership and improve the property as you go along. Or, perhaps you are thinking of buying an investment property to fix up and sell again quickly. Whichever describes your motivation, there are a few things to keep in mind.

Buying a property that needs improvement takes a trained eye and some diligent inspection before deciding this purchase is a "great deal." Depending on your "weekend" carpenter skills, you may not be aware of all the problems that may need attention to make the property habitable. Employ a home inspection service to go through the property to determine the actual condition of some of the systems you may not be as familiar with. An expensive price tag for replacing heating systems, or outdated plumbing can severely cut into your "profit" margin if you are planning a quick resale. Don't overlook other inspections like septic, well, radon, water, etc., should the occasion arise. Replacement costs can really affect your plans, if you thought a cosmetic "face lift" was all that was necessary.

Be aware of local village ordinances before purchasing a fix up home. Some ordinances will not allow you to add on or rebuild without specific compliances to the newer codes. Improvements can also be limited to the deed restrictions, or an architectural review panel, if the property is located in an area that is subject to these restrictions. If the property is serviced by a septic and well system, the county health department will have requirements and guidelines for any new improvements, regardless of the existing situation. Proper permits may need to be applied for as well to do any improvements, so be sure to find out all particulars before finalizing the purchase. Be careful not to over improve the property if you are expecting to sell the property in a short period of time.

If the property has "historical" status, or value, find out from the village renovation requirements and other perks for restoration.

Should you need the services of a contractor, ask for references from past customers for expeditious completion of your project. If you are looking for a quick resale, you will need the job to be completed in a timely fashion to reduce carrying costs and enthusiasm for your project. The contractor will also have a team of licensed professional sub contractors familiar with all phase of home improvement and remodeling. Don't expect to get top dollar for a less than professional job. "Band-aid" repairs won't due the property justice, and will probably cost less to have done right the first time, than redoing later.

Financing is another important aspect of the investment game. Often times the lender can offer an "interest only" short term note to finance a short term project. Consider the carrying costs of a monthly interest note for at least 90 to 120 days when calculating profit. If a standard mortgage is your choice, be prepared to qualify for your new mortgage, as the lender will be aware that there will be no rental income during the renovation period. In addition to your investment plans, build in a least two months of vacancy time should be entertaining a lease proposition to cover the transition of tenants, or rental loss for various reasons.

In some cases the property may need a good cleaning, fresh carpeting, paint and some appliance replacement. For resale purposes, the property that shows the best, with the most competitive price will sell. Be sure to figure in all closing costs when calculating profit. You will need to pay for updated reports, regardless of the short time you may have carried the property, including the regular closing costs that accompany property transfer. In addition, reserve money for probable capital gains taxes for the year the property is conveyed. Investment property can be a great opportunity when you consider all the facts.

Parade of Homes to be held

The Home Builders Association of Greater Chicago (HBAGC) is pleased to announce the location for the suburban 1994 Parade of Homes. Located at Aberdare Estates in Gurnee, the parade will feature eight custom homes from Chicago area builders that are fully landscaped and decorated. The parade will be open to the public July 16 through August 7.

The homes will range in price from $450,000 to $600,000 and will be decorated by members of the American Society of Interior Designers (ASID). The parade will also feature a "Taste of Lake County," with food available from numerous restaurants in the Lake County area.

Participating in the 1994 Parade of Homes are seven of the top custom builders in Chicago including Arnold Buschman Enterprises, Inc.; New Tradition Homes (who will have two homes in the parade); Henderson Homes, Inc.; Cyrus Homes; R.M. Swanson & Associates; Turnkey Construction; and Rynes Development, Inc. Each home will showcase not only beautifully decorated interiors but also the latest in architectural design and energy-saving technology.

"The Village of Gurnee is very excited about the Parade of Homes being located in our community," stated Gurnee Mayor

Richard Welton. "The Village of Gurnee is very proud of the Grand/Hunt area that houses Aberdare Estates. We believe this 1,600 acre quadrant, which includes a 210 acre golf course, will be the showcase of quality development occurring in Lake County."

Further information about the Parade of Homes may be obtained by calling the Home Builders Association of Greater Chicago at 627-7575.

Seps can reduce taxes for small businesses

It was a case of pre-tax season sticker shock for Micro Widgets, Inc., a fictitious name for a real-life business. After the company's final quarterly estimated tax payment was prepared, it turned out that the family-owned and operated concern owed the government $34,152 for the year that was nearly over.

Micro Widgets could not produce that much cash by the December tax payment due date. With about $20,000 in cash on hand, the owner of Micro Widgets was facing the bleak prospect of heading to the bank for a loan to make the estimated tax payment.

The company's tax and financial professional had a better idea. The idea was to set up a SEP, a simplified employee pension plan, for his small business client.

Micro Widget's ultimate contribution to the SEP for the tax year amounted to $32,640. Of that amount, $11,822 was made on behalf of the company's owner. The other $20,760 funded SEP accounts for five employees.

The $32,640 SEP contribution reduced the business owner's tax bracket by 3 percentage points. In doing so, the SEP produced both immediate and long-term benefits for the business owner:

- It enabled Micro Widgets to make a final estimated quarterly tax payment of $21,589, instead of the original $34,152. The company was able to pay the lower amount out of cash on hand in the business.
- The $32,640 SEP contribution could be funded as late as September of the following year, out of Micro Widget revenues generated later in that year.

- It saved a total of $9,526 in 1991 taxes. Subtracting the tax savings from the $20,760 in SEP funding for employees, the business owner's actual first-year cost of funding the SEP was $11,197.

Seidler

- It enabled the business owner to save for his retirement and offer a real benefit to his employees.

SEPs can be used by self-employed professionals, sole proprietorships, partnerships and corporations to make tax-deductible contributions on behalf of employees and owner/employees. Simple and inexpensive both to set up and administer, SEPs are highly effective at meeting the requirements of both employers and employees.

There are several things to be considered when setting up a SEP or any other kind of retirement plan for your business. In a future column we will review the features, benefits and drawbacks to SEPs to help business owners determine if a SEP is right for the needs of their companies.

Gurnee store largest Glastron dealer

The Glastron Boat Company has named Duchow's Boat Center of Gurnee the largest Glastron dealer in the world for the second year in a row.

Glastron Boats is one of the oldest volume producers of family-oriented pleasure boats. They have been sold in the US market since 1956. The company claims to have more boats in use throughout the world than any other boat manufacturer.

Duchow's Boat Center is managed by Mark Duchow with the help of his brother Craig. It is located on Route 132 in the village center of Gurnee.

The award presented to the Duchows was done at a recent dealer meeting in Little Falls, Minn.

In addition to the Glastron line, the dealership also is the exclusive Chicagoland dealer for the Wellcraft boat line, as well.

Term insurance premiums to increase dramatically

ALAN NADOLNA

For the last five years insurance consumers have been enjoying steadily decreasing premiums.

But this will change dramatically, especially for those who have or plan to buy term insurance. Whole life insurance may not change at all or if some whole life policy premiums change the cost will not go up very much.

Not only have premiums decreased, but new policies guaranteeing low level premiums for 5, 10, 15 and 20 years have become extremely common. The result has been enormous purchases of term insurance by people who recognize the need for coverage, but were formally unable to afford whole life premiums or hesitant to buy term insurance with premiums escalating yearly.

New regulation

This spring could mark an end to the favorable market place for term coverage. The National Association of Insurance Commissioners will be meeting, most likely to adopt guidelines called XXX.

This is a model regulation for life insurance policies that will cause insurance companies to establish larger base reserves on policies issued after the regulations effective date.

Significantly higher reserves, premiums

Many large eastern insurance carriers who have long operated with high reserve regulations because of New York law have supported this new guideline. The eastern companies were intent on leveling the playing field and taking the price advantage away from companies not licensed in the state of New York.

The expected effective date of XXX is January 1, 1995 although some states could put this regulation into effect retroactively to January 1, 1994. It is anticipated with some certainty that existing policies will be "grandfathered" until the end of the guaranteed premium period.

The premium structure after that guarantee period of low premium payments is likely to be significantly higher than what was anticipated when the contract was sold.

Real urgency to review

There is a real sense of urgency in reviewing existing term insurance coverages and in evaluating ones needed for insurance protection.

The period between now and January 1, 1995, quite probably represents the last opportunity to obtain term insurance with long term multi year premium rate guarantees that will be at extremely low rates. Many insurance companies have reduced rates in order to obtain business prior to the enactment of guideline XXX.

We would recommend that readers review their own financial positions to try to determine what their need for life insurance coverage is and for how long that need exists. They should then seek rates from a number of top rated competitive term insurance carriers.

Information will be provided to readers with lists of recommended term insurance companies and product recommendations by contacting Associates in Financial Planning, 100 S. Wacker Drive, Suite 1650, Chicago, IL 60606, or call (312)220-0337 or (800)428-9786.

-INVESTMENT TRENDS-

Noah A. Seidenberg,

Investment Representative of Edward D. Jones & Co.

Watch quality rather than price

One way of evaluating a stock is by looking at its price-to-earnings ratio (P/E). P/E is calculated by dividing a stock's price by its earnings per share for the past 12 months. For example, a stock selling for $20 that has earned $2 in the past 12 months has a P/E of 10 (20 divided by two).

A recent study illustrated the importance of considering P/E when choosing a stock. By tracking the stock that had the highest P/E on the New York Stock Exchange in March of every year from 1982 to 1992, the study found that each of the stocks went on to perform miserably in subsequent years. In fact, seven of those "winners" actually lost value.

This occurred during a time when the overall stock market increased in value. In fact, the stocks in the Standard & Poor's (S&P) 500 Index more than doubled in value during the same period.

The stocks in the study had P/Es ranging from 24 to 70; in comparison, the P/E of the S&P 500 ranged from seven to 17 during the same period. The historic average P/E of the 30 stocks listed in the Dow Jones Industrial Average is about 14.

A high P/E might be a sign of an overvalued stock that could drop in market value. Most of the high-P/E stocks in the study represented either a new technology or innovative business concept during their peak year, and investors bought the stocks despite sky-high prices. In every instance, new competitors entered the market, slowing and often neutralizing the pioneer's anticipated growth.

Posterworks offers variety

SPENCER SCHEIN
Staff Reporter

Haven't had much luck finding that poster you saw at your friend's house, or a print from a restaurant or boutique? Then cruise by Posterworks, Gallery and Frame and look through the largest selection in the entire Midwest.

Craig Sayers, 46, opened the Mundelein store in 1989 with his wife Karen and has enjoyed every minute, as he has always had an interest in artwork.

Often times people who have been looking for a favorite print for two or three years find it within 10 minutes of walking in the doors, Sayers said.

Posterworks boasts a mammoth selection of 5,000 posters and prints in stock, with 60 catalogues on hand to place orders.

From fine art reproductions, botanicals, abstracts and museum pieces, Sayers said they have "just about every category of art."

Animal and sports fans won't be disappointed either, as Posterworks carries a wide variety of those as well as architecture and landscapes and a special selection of artwork for children.

Like most businesses, the store is packed during the holiday season with people looking for gifts.

The clientele is very diverse, with many people from Wisconsin and the North Shore area coming by, looking for the print or poster among the wide selection.

Sayers only deals with nationally recognized artists, and the store carries work from all major and new nationally recognized artists.

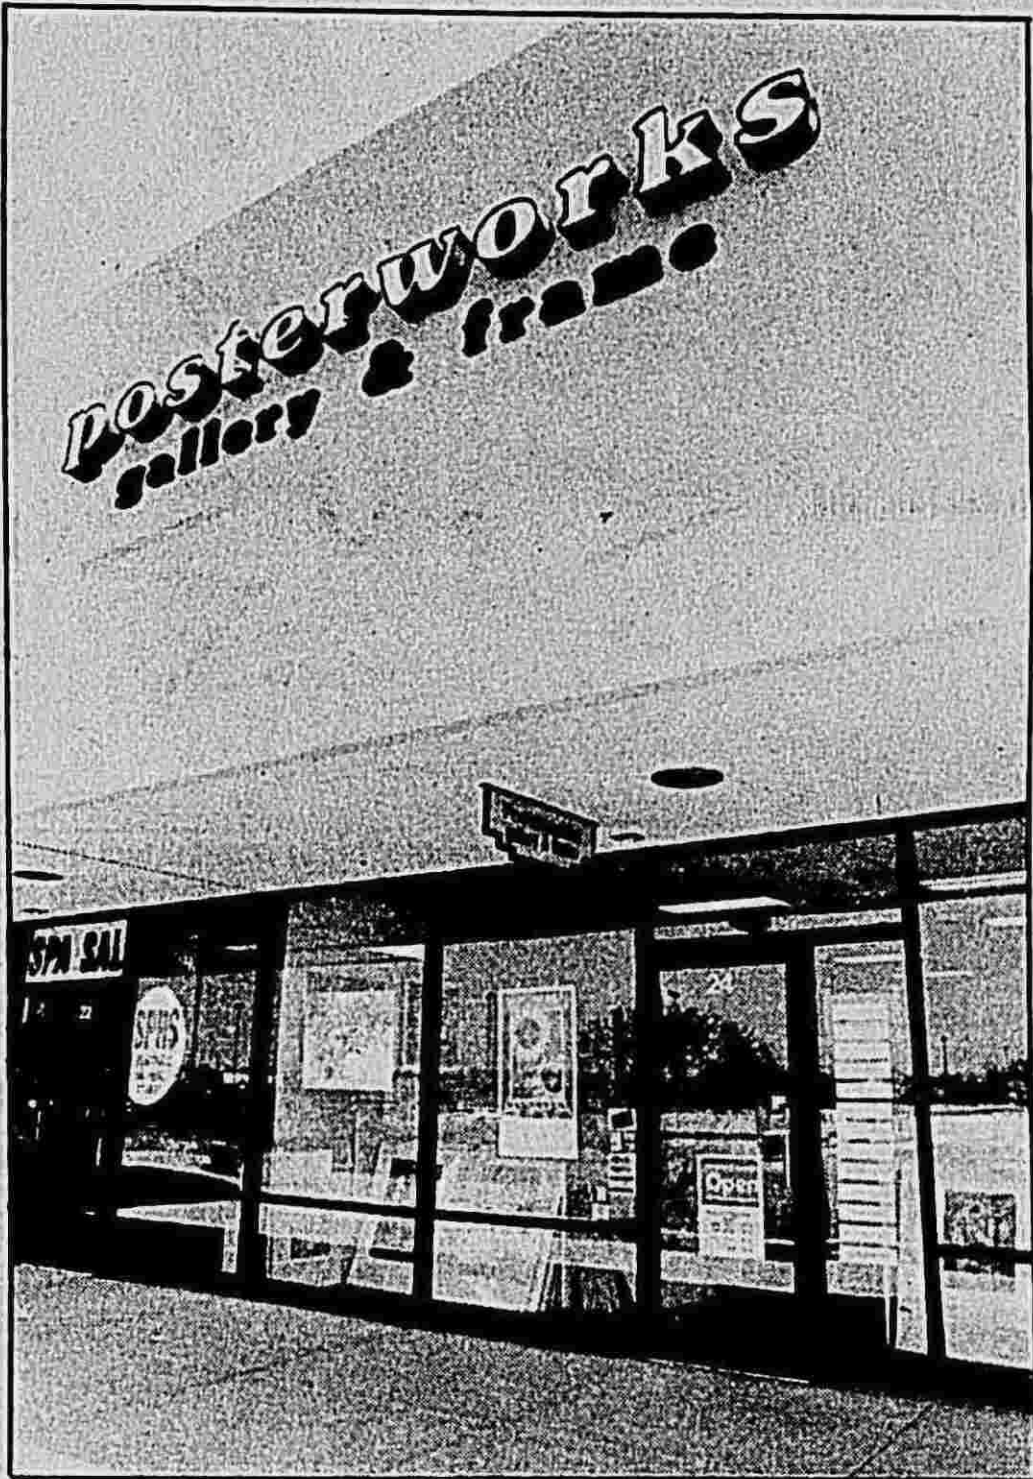

Many of the purchases are for the home or office, with people looking for prints for their living or dining rooms and even bedrooms.

The store also has a wide variety of frames, mattes and moldings to make the perfect accent for any picture, whether it is bought from the store or not. Sayer said they will frame prints or posters brought from homes or offices, and all for a reasonable price.

Posterworks is located at 24 Oak Creek Plaza on Route 60.

"We'll tell them, show them and have them do it," Brummel said.

In the final analysis, Brummel said the retail giants may serve their purpose, but he said Barron Paint will continue to grow as long as people are looking for "service, pricing and selection."

Coalition: Health care crisis getting worse

Contrary to some recent reports, there is a health care crisis—and it's getting worse. Health care spending is rising more rapidly, not less rapidly, and the number of Americans without any health insurance is up sharply.

The Department of Commerce estimated—in a study that received little attention because it was released between Christmas and New Year's—that U.S. health care spending in 1993 totaled $942.5 billion, a one year jump from 1992 to 1993 of $102.1 billion (the largest one year increase in history). Commerce also projected that this year, health care spending will exceed $1 trillion. What has received attention is a study from the Bureau of Labor Statistics (BLS) indicating that the medical care component of the Consumer Price Index (CPI) increased by "only" 5.4 percent.

What accounts for the apparent disparity between these two figures? The Commerce numbers reflect total health care spending. The BLS figure summarizes changes in the book or list prices (not the actual prices, after negotiated discounts) for private-sector payers (not Medicare, Medicaid, or other public programs) for a sample of procedures and commodities (not all of them) charged by a sample of health care providers (not all of them).

Congress, as it considers proposals to reform the health care system, needs to worry about increases in total spending—which, according to the Department of Commerce, will average 13.5 percent per year for each of the next five years.

That means that in the absence of reforms, total health care spending could nearly double in five years—to $1.775 trillion in 1998.

The Congressional Budget Office projects that in 1998 the U.S. Gross Domestic Product will reach $8.078 trillion. The bottom line: unless something is done soon to constrain the expected increases, health care spending could absorb 22 percent of our GDP in 1998—more than one out of every five dollars.

According to a study issued last month by the Employee Benefit Research Institute, the number of Americans without health insurance jumped between 1991 and 1992 from 36.6 million to 38.9 million—a one year increase of 2.3 million. These men, women and children are living in physical and financial peril everyday.

The Coalition is rigorously non-partisan. Its honorary co-chairs are former presidents Jimmy Carter and Gerald R. Ford.

Benefit will aid Lakeshore Family Services programs

The Youth Service Advisory Board of Lakeshore Family Services, 2115 S. Ernie Krueger Circle, Waukegan, invites the public to their third annual Spaghetti Dinner on April 19 from 5 to 8 p.m. at the Bonnie Brook Country Club, 2800 N. Lewis Ave., Waukegan.

Lakeshore Family Services provides family counseling and youth crisis intervention. Its goal is to keep youth ages 12 to 18 out of the child welfare and juvenile justice systems. Most of the services which are provided take place in the home, school and police department.

The primary and unique services offered to the police department is crisis intervention to runaway youth refusing to return home, or parents refusing to allow youth to live at home. Their crisis workers respond to a phone call from a police officer who has unsuccessfully attempted to reunite a family. Arriving at the police station within an hour, the crisis worker is able to offer a level of professionalism and skill to begin the reunification process. In reuniting the family, Lakeshore Family Services provides follow-up counseling to ensure problems that brought them to the point of crisis are resolved.

WINGS is also a part of Lakeshore Family Services. WINGS is a prevention program of prenatal intervention for women and the father of their expected children who are referred by the Lake County Health Dept.

Tickets are available. Adults are $6, senior citizens $5, children $4, and toddlers are free. There will be door prizes and everyone is welcome. Call Central Baptist Family Services at 356-1021 to order tickets.

Lifesteps

Weight management program at Victory Memorial Hospital, focuses on making gradual lifestyle changes to achieve long-term weight control while eating regular food. ### Administrator receives honor

Mary Hansen, associate administrator of education at Forest Health Systems, received an award for "Outstanding Commitment to Interagency Cooperation" from the Community Education Foundation of Township High School District 214.

Hansen was honored for serving on the advisory board for Fighting Back: Communities Against Substance Abuse, and for facilitating communications between the program and the Community Education Foundation.

The award was presented at a breakfast honoring individuals, businesses and organizations for their contributions to the success of five local community and social service programs that have served more than 50,000 people.

Serving the northwest suburbs for more than 35 years, Forest Health Systems is a group of facilities offering treatment programs for children, adolescents and adults suffering from mental or emotional disorders. Forest Health Systems also offers comprehensive programs for eating disorders, dual diagnosis, substance abuse and partial hospitalization, as well as a range of outpatient programs.

Center celebrates five years

Five years of Hope and Love, an anniversary celebration for Independence Center, a rehabilitation program for persons with mental illness, will take place Friday evening, April 15, at the Country Squire. Honorary chairpersons for the event will be State Representative Virginia Fiester Frederick and Highland Park Mayor Dan Pierce. They will be joined by community and business leaders and other supporters across the county for an elegant dinner with an eclectic auction and entertainment.

Founded in 1989, Independence Center's "club-house model" program has served nearly 500 mentally ill adults and their families from throughout Lake County. The center's mission is to enhance the quality of life, to promote independent functioning, and facilitate personal growth for adults with a history of mental illness. To achieve this mission the center provides its members with pre-vocational training in its business, kitchen, and orientation units and support vocational training in its transitional employment unit. Housing and case management services are provided and a social program offers a variety of recreational and social activities and special events.

The center started as a dream of members of the Alliance for the Mentally Ill who led the efforts to raise the funds and build the community support needed to establish the center. What was once a dream is now an outstanding reality housed on Washington Street in Waukegan. Approximately 125 members participate in the programs on a monthly basis. The goodwill and contributions from individuals, businesses and corporations are still the foundation and strength of the center.

Anyone interested in donating items for the auction or purchasing tickets for the five year anniversary celebration should call Joan Loren at 360-1020.

Volunteers return for Candy Days

On Friday and Saturday, April 29 and 30, more than 10,000 volunteers throughout Chicago and its suburbs will help spread a little sweetness during Misericordia Home's eighth annual Candy Days. Apron-clad Misericordia volunteers will be accepting donations in exchange for Fannie May Candy lollipops at train stations, on street corners, in shopping areas and near banks.

These donations fund programs crucial for Misericordia's 450 infants, children and adults with mental disabilities, some also physically challenged. Misericordia is a not-for-profit organization and, as such, depends heavily on private fundraising endeavors such as Candy Days.

People interested in volunteering for one or both days should call 312-508-KIDS.

"The Candy Days drive is very important to Misericordia. We are privileged to provide superior care for our residents, and we need money to do that," says Sister Rosemary Connelly, RSM, executive director of Misericordia. "The people of Chicago and suburbs have been very good to Misericordia. Their support makes a real difference in the lives of our kids and adults. We appreciate their help, and we ask for it again."

Misericordia Home is committed to excellent and compassionate care for its residents.

Easing Your Tax Burden

Be prepared: tax circumstances change as you get older

We don't really like to admit it, especially in public, but our parents, our friends, and even some of us, are starting to get a little bit older. Because the aging of America is a reality, I'd like to pass on a little information about the tax area many of you may not be very familiar with—estates and caring for an elderly relative.

Perhaps the biggest confusion concerns the filing of a final income tax return for a decedent. Normally, a final tax return would only have to be filed if the individual would have to file if he or she were still alive.

The personal representative of the estate is responsible for filing the final income tax return of the decedent for the year of death and for any returns not filed in previous years.

The personal representative is usually an executor named in the will or an administrator appointed by the court.

If you are named in the will to take care of the estate, you have certain responsibilities. Basically, the duties of a personal representative are to collect all the decedent's assets, pay the creditors, and distribute the remaining assets to the heirs or beneficiaries. In addition, you must file any income tax returns and the estate tax return when due, and pay the tax.

If you need to file an estate return, the first action you should take is to apply for an employer identification number (EIN) for the estate. You need the number to enter on the tax returns, statements and other documents that you have to file. To get a number you must fill out a Form SS-4, "Application for an Employer Identification Number," which is available from all IRS and Social Security Administration offices. You can also call our Tele-Tin Number 816-926-5999 and get a number over the phone. You will still have to follow up with the form.

After you gather all the necessary information and receive the EIN, you need to send a written notice (or IRS Form 56) to the IRS to let us know you have been appointed to act as a "fiduciary" for the estate. The term fiduciary means any person acting for another person. This allows the IRS to mail you all the tax notices concerning the decedent.

If the estate has a gross income of $600 or more, you must file a Form 1041, "U.S. Fiduciary Income Tax Return." If income is distributed during the year, you must also file a separate Schedule K-1 (Form 1041).

"Beneficiary's Share of Income, Deductions, Credits, etc.," or an acceptable substitute, for each beneficiary of the estate. If the gross estate is more than $600,000, you must also file Form 706, "United States Estate (and Generation-Skipping Transfer) Tax Return."

You may also be required to file an individual income tax return for the decedent for the period during which he or she lived.

Caring for elderly relatives can also have tax consequences. Let me provide a few examples and how this could effect your taxes.

For example, an elderly parent is living with you because he or she is unable to take care of themselves. The only money the relative receives is a small amount of social security, but it's not enough to pay for all the expenses. You may be able to claim that individual as a dependent on your annual tax return if you can pass several dependency tests.

Very basically, the person must be a member of your household or a relative, they must be a United States citizen or resident, or a resident of Canada or Mexico, and they cannot file a joint return.

In addition, they cannot have had $2,350 or more in gross income and you must provide more than half of their support.

If the only income this person received was social security, the benefits are generally not taxable and are not counted as gross income.

If in the same situation as above, you work and must hire a person to come into your home during the day to care for this person, you may be able to claim a credit on Form 2441, "Child and dependent Care Expenses." You must file a Form 1040 or 1040A and meet all the tests, which are found in Publication 503, "Child and Dependent Care Expenses."

Remember if you pay a care giver to come into your home, you may have to pay Social Security taxes for that individual. More information about your responsibilities can be found in Publication 926, "Employment taxes for Household Employers."

For more information, call 1-800-829-3676 and order Publication 559, "Survivors, Executors, and Administrators," Publication 448, "Federal Estate and Gift Taxes," and any of the publications or forms mentioned above.—by MARILYN W. DAY, IRS district director for northern Illinois.

HEMMING

The contemporary, single level Hemming is a 2196 square foot home that features a "C" shaped floor plan ideally suited to a lot with a view in every direction. Pleasing to the eye, with its elegant outside stonework, the Hemming is equally as pleasing and functional on the inside.

The convenience of the arched, air-tight entry, with bench and closet, lets friends and family disperse with their coats and foul weather gear before moving on to the main part of the home.

To the right of the entry, is a large pantry, with plenty of shelf space which serves the adjacent kitchen. With all the built-ins, including a range & oven, dishwasher and trash compactor, the cook can prepare meals to be served either formally in the dining room or informally at the eating center.

The vaulted center enhances the dining room and spacious living room that surround a stereo center for easy listening, and a wood stove with connecting storage box that will keep everyone cozy on long winter nights. Bookshelves are abundant for the readers in the family. For the warm weather months, a wrap-around deck with easy access moves the fun outdoors, whether it be a snooze in the sun or a barbecue for the whole gang.

On one wing of the home, the Master Suite sits by itself, affording maximum privacy. You won't have to worry about closet space here! There are two. One being a generous walk-through that leads into the large bathroom with twin vanities.

On the opposite wing are two smaller bedrooms that share a full bathroom across the hall. Flanking the bath are a utility room with washer/dryer, laundry sink and counter for folding clothes, and a mechanical room that houses the water heater while providing shelves for storage.

For a study kit of the HEMMING (401-08), send $9.00, to Landmark Designs, P.O. Box 2307-LP60, Eugene, OR 97402 (Be sure to specify plan name & number). For a collection of plan books featuring Landmark's most popular home plans, send $20 to Landmark.

PET PARADE

A new member of the family

Puppies are not quite like children, but if you use common sense, the task of raising the puppy through adulthood can be a lot easier.

First and foremost: If you are buying the puppy from a breeder or from a pet store, the most important factor to consider is, the puppy must be healthy. Use the 48 hours to get the puppy checked out completely. If you don't like the veterinarian that was recommended, see that one first, then go to another veterinarian of your choice. If there is anything wrong, go back to the breeder or the store immediately, don't wait. The breeder or the store should back up their claims for healthy, illness free puppies.

Once you have the puppy, the chart on the right will help you keep your puppy healthy. Please don't hedge on the vaccinations, they are extremely important for your puppy's and your health sake.

Now one of the most common questions that I am asked regarding raising a puppy:

Why is my puppy always nipping and biting me?

Dogs start learning to bite from a very early age. One reason puppies have those stupid, little, useless needles for teeth is so that when they are play-fighting with their little brothers and sisters and they bite too hard, they hurt—that's the only reason why they have them, to cause pain.

"Bite inhibition" must be taught and learned at a very early age. Between four and 18 weeks, the puppy's jaw muscles are not developed and so those sharp little teeth are there as a substitute for the lack of power. Therefore, it is perfectly normal for our puppies to bite us: They are undergoing a natural learning process and it is our job to teach them, at this stage, that biting humans is not acceptable.

The best way to teach them not to bite is to observe what happens between two puppies. When one bites too hard the other yelps and the biter lets go immediately. So, if we let out a sharp cry of pain every time our puppy's teeth come into contact with our skin (don't wait until it hurts), we can quickly desensitize it from using its teeth on us.

Puppy daycare can also help with your little nipper. Instead of leaving your little one home alone all day, daycare will help socialize, crate train, potty train and get rid of that excess energy!

Stop by and see our facilities. Daycare doors open at 6 a.m. Our daycare staff is with your puppy all the time and play time is supervised constantly.—by CATHIE SABIN, BC Dog Training, Grooming and Pet Supply

Cooperative Extension Service offers landscaping programs

"What are the best plants to use in my yard?" This is one of the most frequently asked gardening questions. It is also one of the most difficult to answer. Several factors determine which plant is best for a particular landscape, and too often homeowners haven't taken those factors into consideration.

To help homeowners select the right plant, the Cooperative Extension Service is offering a program entitled "Selecting and Using Plants in the Landscape." Both new and established homeowners will find the program useful. The program will begin with a discussion on how to evaluate the yard or landscape site and determine what factors will affect plant selection. The rest of the program will describe various plants (perennials, shrubs and trees) and their use in the landscape.

This program will be offered at the Lake County Unit Extension office located at 100 S. Hwy. 45, Grayslake, on Saturday, April 9 from 10 a.m. to 1 p.m. The same program will be offered again at the Warren-Newport Public Library on Thursday, April 14 from 7 to 9 p.m. and the Cook Memorial Public Library on Wednesday, April 27 from 7 to 9 p.m. All three sessions will be conducted by Sharon Ylesla, Horticulture Educator with the Cooperative Extension Service in Lake County.

The programs held at the libraries will be a repeat of the program in Grayslake, but will cover fewer plants. Warren-Newport Public Library is located at 224 O'Plaine Rd., Gurnee and Cook Memorial Public Library is located at 413 N. Milwaukee Ave., Libertyville.

There is no fee for the program, but registration is required as seating is limited at some locations. Registration for all three sites is being handled through the Cooperative Extension Service. Call the Lake County Extension office at 223-8627 to register and indicate which session you would like to attend.

Call for free gardening advice

When is the last frost date? How soon can I start my seeds? How do I care for perennials? Do these questions sound familiar? As gardening season begins, gardeners need a source to turn to for answers to their questions.

Help is just a phone call away, according to Sharon Ylesla, horticulturist with the Univ. of Illinois Cooperative Extension Service.

Gardeners can call the Lake County Extension office at 223-8627 and talk to a Master Gardener. Lake County residents can now call the Master Gardeners Monday through Friday from 9 a.m. to 3 p.m. Residents who want to talk to the Master Gardeners in person can stop by the Lake County office during the same hours. The office is located at 100 S. Hwy. 45 in Grayslake.

Proper mulching protects trees, plants

I'm sure with the weather turning warmer, many people are ready to begin planting. Please keep in mind any plants going into the ground now, especially smaller potted plants, should be mulched, especially with the threat of frost still here.

What does mulch do?

Any type of wood mulch, like hardwood shredded mulch, wood chips, or shavings, generally help retain moisture that is present in the soil and helps to reduce weeds in the garden.

Does mulch add nutrients to the soil?

No. It actually depletes the soil of nitrogen as it breaks down.

How deep should I mulch?

On trees, shrubs and evergreens, up to four inches; on groundcovers, perennials and annuals, up to two inches in depth. All plants need oxygen and mulching too deep will prevent correct oxygen exchange.

Is one mulch better than another?

We prefer arborist chips, hardwood shredded mulch over pebbles, rocks, and various other mulches used. They seem to retain moisture in the soil and prevent or reduce weed growth in the garden beds better than other mulches.

When I want to add more mulch, what's the best procedure?

First add a balanced garden fertilizer like a 10-10-10 or 12-12-12 product, then add your new mulch, not exceeding the four inch or two inch depth mentioned.

Is it okay to put mulch right up to the base of a tree?

I have seen people mound mulch up onto the base of a tree and this is not acceptable. This practice will eventually rot the bark on a tree. If you've done this in the past, just correct it by pulling the bark off of the tree and spreading it around the drip-line of the tree.

When planting late in the season you can mulch, especially evergreen trees, deeper than four inches to protect against heaving and to keep the soil warmer a bit longer so the plant will continue to grow. However, when spring arrives, pull the extra mulch off to the desired depth of four inches.

Finally, mulch will definitely keep the soil cooler in the hot summer months and warmer later in the season, and this will benefit most plantings.—by

Lawn care season officially starts in April

The North American lawn care season officially starts in April because that's when lawns are turning green just about everywhere. Power equipment dealers report that the graph line for mower sales starts moving up in March and tops off in April and May. The nice weather combined with the first flush of spring growth gets people in the mood to go outdoors again and enjoy the fresh air and sunshine. In fact, lawn care is the number one outdoor home activity according to a national survey.

"The nation's lawns cover more than 25 million acres," said Ann E. McClure, CAE, executive vice president of the Professional Lawn Care Assn. of America (PLCAA). "More than 100 million people operate about 61 million mowers to keep their lawns looking neat and trim. It's estimated that North Americans spend about one billion hours on lawn care every year."

What's the payback on all that time and work? According to McClure, well-maintained lawns are worth the effort.

"Lawns are play areas for children and adults, so it's important to keep them trim and weed free," McClure said. "Clover and other groundcovers can attract bees to the play area, and bee stings can cause serious injury. Many people are allergic."

McClure said that lawns also provide a security zone that denies prowlers a hiding place; a lawn gives a homeowner a clear view out to the street.

"Farmers maintain a large lawn around their homes to keep insects and rodents at a distance," said PLCAA Public Relations Committee Chairman Bob Tracinski, consumer information manager for John Deere. "And lawns reduce the risk of fire hazard because they're less likely to sustain a blaze."

Lawns provide many environmental benefits, according to PLCAA:

- The root system actually purifies rainwater that leaches through it. Research shows that acid rain is less acid after it's filtered through a lawn.

- Lawns trap particulate matter—the dust and smoke particles that fall continually. Soil microbes help break these substances into neutral molecules.

- Lawns act as evaporative coolers to lower the temperature of surrounding air. Lawns scatter light while absorbing some solar radiation.

- Lawns play a role in replenishing the oxygen supply, in preventing soil erosion, in filtering pollen from the air, in reducing sunlight glare, in building top soil, and even in absorbing noise pollution.

"Lawns create a friendly atmosphere," Tracinski said. "There's something soothing and relaxing about a sweep of green grass. It provides a kind of bond with our neighbors."

PLCAA and its 1,000 members support National Lawn Care Month to celebrate the many positive contributions of home lawns. Established in 1979, PLCAA develops educational programs, defines industry standards and serves as a national voice for the lawn care industry.

"Tae Kwon Do is a way of life," according to Master John Soo Lee, owner and instructor of Lee's Tae Kwon Do, located at 3701 Grand Avenue.

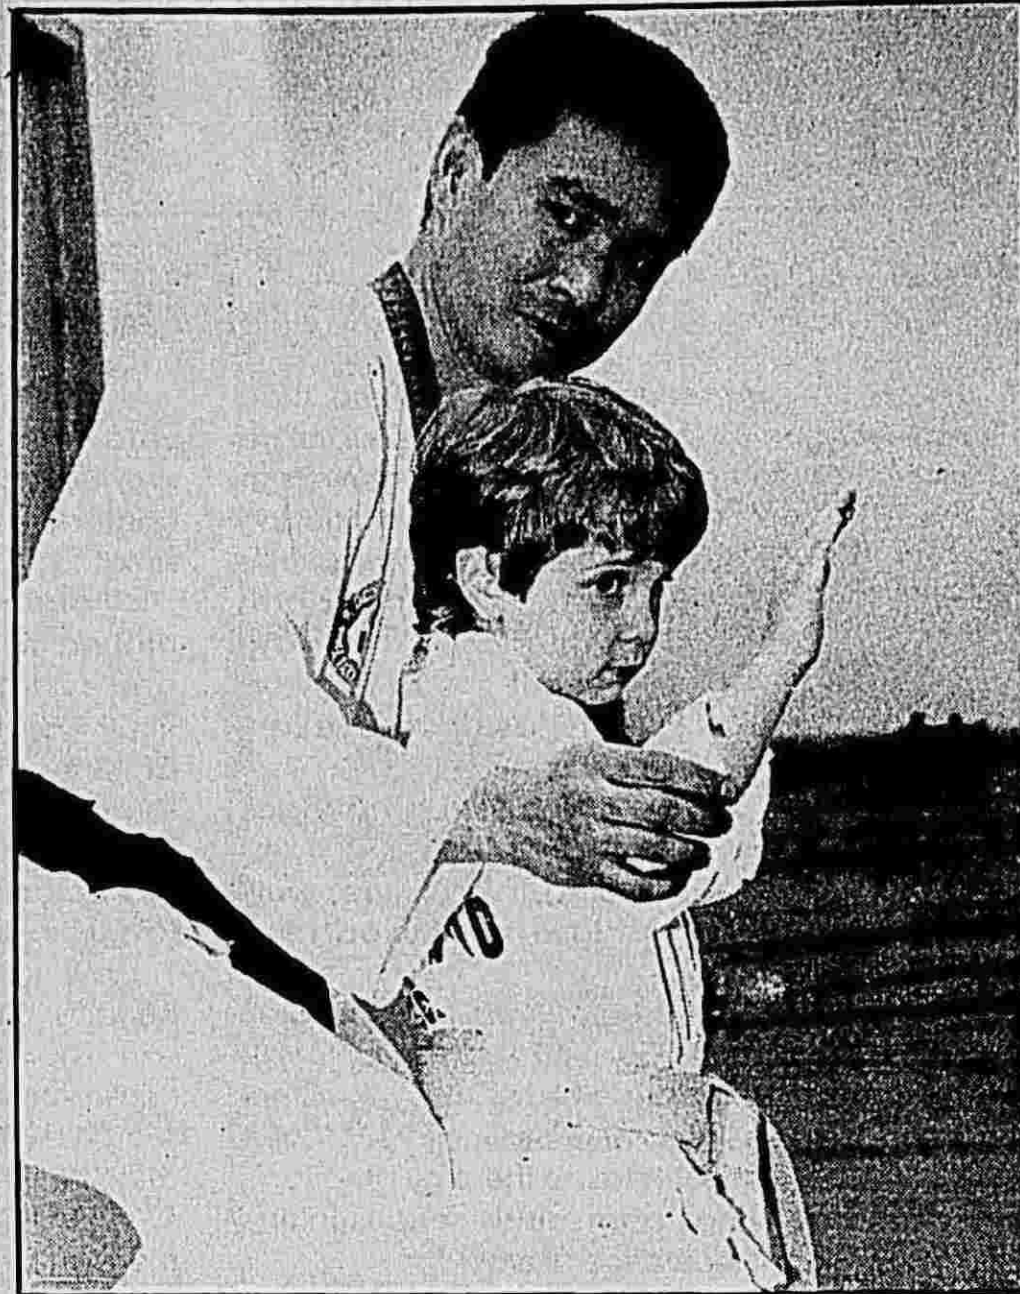

Lee's students have a common goal, he says, "to improve our lives through better health, lifestyle, discipline, confidence, and better physical condition."

The different colored belts worn by a student indicate their advancement in these qualities.

Each color thus represents a different level. Yellow is the color of the morning sun, and represents the student's beginning.

The green belt represents the spring season, and indicates the student's growth. Blue signifies the sky and increased abilities. Red belts are the color of blood and a warning of danger.

Last is the black belt, a combination of all colors, and signifying the deepest and densest knowledge. The wearer of the black belt displays the accumulation of Master John Soo Lee has over 26 years of Tae Kwon Do experience, and holds a sixth degree black belt. Lee's Tae Kwon Do is a member in good standing of the World Tae Kwon Do Federation and the United States of America Tae Kwon Do Union, which is a member of the Olympic Committee. Master Lee teaches all classes personally. The studio offers separate classes for white and yellow belts, green and blue belts, red and black belts, and an adult class that spans white to black.

Lee is well versed in this knowledge. A native of Seoul, Korea, Master Lee is a sixth degree black belt in Tae Kwon Do, with over 25 years of experience, including a stint as a martial arts instructor in the Korean Marine Corps.

Master Lee spends many hours on research in order to present as much information to his students as possible.

He also instills the deeper philosophical ideals of the art, in order to "improve society by rebuilding, enhancing, and strengthening the individual's character."

Lee's Tae Kwon Do was located in Zion for six years before relocating to its present Gurnee location. The new facilities boast nearly twice the exercise area, and include a weight room with a set of Universal equipment.

Master Lee encourages anyone interested in improving both their physical and mental skills to visit the studio. And be prepared to begin a new way of life.

"I was standing next to the machine with the new prototype mold trying new processes for a year," Good said.

"The breakthrough was when I got the club out and it was perfect. After two hours, I knew I had the right processing," Carobus said. That came in 1992.

"Rick produced quite a few clubs that did not have bubbles. We shafted all those up and we have been playing with them," Good said, showing a 3-year-old mold. "It amazed a lot of people."

Logos are lasered into the club, one-eighth inch off the hitting face. "The hitting face never becomes affected," Carobus said.

"The ball took off like unbelievable. I made this in 1979 at Oak Park Country Club as a junior member. Each one got better and better," Good said.

"My media is acrylic and always has been. I started building. The rule was - don't get into what everybody else is doing. Don't get into the woods and metal. There is 200,000 other people doing it. Get into something that is new and different and exciting with an excellent future. That was acrylic," Good said.

The company uses all American-made parts, a fact of which it is proud.

Golf is among the largest growing sports nationwide.

"If a course was built every day for five years, there still would not be enough courses," Good commented.

The club sells for $239 and includes a polishing kit.

British pros are currently using the club.

Good received an early start in his building interests, at one time building treehouses. Good, a Palatine Fremd High graduate, had a unique way of getting the word out. He placed flyers at Don's Barber Shop in Lake Zurich.

CMS sponsors 10K race April 16 CLC softball team readies for Skyway Conference

Finch University of Health Sciences/The Chicago Medical School announced that its 13th Annual 10K Footrace will be held on Saturday, April 16. A one-mile walk has also been added.

The race, which is co-sponsored by various local businesses, will begin at 9:30 a.m., at the school, 3333 Green Bay Rd., in North Chicago. The event, traditionally a first-year medical school class project sponsored in conjunction with the student council, attempts to bring together all segments of the local Lake County community in a fun-filled day that includes a picnic, music, and community fitness. The event has been named "Race for the Future."

According to Sonny Patel, president of the first-year class at FUHS/CMS, the timing of the race—just two weeks prior to the Lake County Marathon—serves as an ideal final tune-up for many of those who enter that event. He indicates that prizes will be awarded in three different male and female age divisions.

All participants will receive a specially designed T-shirt. Patel says that he hopes to draw a record number of runners. The race encompasses Route 137, passes the VA Hospital, and winds around into North Chicago and Lake Bluff.

Fee for pre-registration is $10 prior to April 9, and $12 thereafter, including the day of the race. Entry forms can be obtained through the school office of student affairs, or by calling 244-1573.

CLC softball team readies for Skyway Conference

Ever since the phrase was coined, "Go West" did not guarantee success and happiness.

CLC's softball team headed to Arizona for a 10-game swing and came home with a 1-9 record, but plenty of lessons learned against some quality softball teams.

"We did not play real well," Coach Sue Garcia said.

CLC hosts McHenry in Skyway Conference play at 3 p.m. April 12.

Amy Drinan, a switch-hitter from Round Lake, hit .310.

"Last year was right after we switched her to a switch hitter and she went 0-for-the spring trip," Garcia said.

Terrilyn Starkey, the former

Mundelein standout, proved she could hit junior college pitching as well with a .360 average with 4 doubles and a triple.

Kelly Damron, from Antioch, hit .345 with 2 doubles.

Carmel grad Beth Smith was the winning pitcher in CLC's 6-2 win over Scottsdale. "She had gotten sick. When she is on, she gives up 6 or 7 hits a game. When she was sick, she was giving up 13 or 14 hits," Garcia said.

The trip was not all serious softball. The team enjoyed a few hours in Mexico.

It's racetime at Wilmot Speedway

"It's racetime at Wilmot," is the cry as Toft Auto Racing prepares to drop the green flag on the 41st consecutive season of Wilmot Speedway on Saturday, April 9.

The '94 opener will ironically include the conclusion of the '93 season. The Wisconsin Modified Challenge Series sponsored by Coors Light had the winged portion weathered out last fall. Dennis Spitz of Kenosha won the non-winged round. Repeated attempts to get the winged round in were called off due to rain and cold weather.

In addition, opening night '94 will feature the season debut and first of 24 consecutive Saturday nights of winged sprint action at Wisconsin's Original Home of Sprint Car Racing.

The full-bodied sportsman are included on the April 9 card.

The same three divisions are slated for each Saturday during April with a fourth class to be added starting April 16.

The new Wilmot street stock class will be unveiled on April 16 and return on April 30.

Mini-modifieds commence their season on April 23.

In a change from the previously distributed schedule, mini-modifieds will return on May 7 with the mini-sprints starting their season on May 14.

During April, Wilmot Speedway will institute a new policy of using Sunday afternoons for bad weather makeups. Starting time on Sundays will be with the first race at 3 p.m.

Beginning with the April 9 program, Wilmot Speedway will have a new starting time. With the elimination of regular time trials, "Wisconsin's Clay Center of Speed" will start its first race at 7 p.m., each race night. Grandstands will open at 5 p.m. with practice sessions at approximately 6 p.m.

For further updates in case of inclement weather, call the track-side racelines at 414-862-2446 or 838-RACE. The track office may be reached at 414-862-2458 or 395-0500.

Wilmot Speedway's one-third mile clay oval is located on the Kenosha County Fairgrounds in Wilmot, Wis. Take I-94 to Kenosha County Hwy. C, C west nine miles to downtown Wilmot. Go north at Wilmot "66" Center, one-quarter mile on County Hwy. W (Fox River Road) to the fairgrounds and the speedway.

MICHAEL FOHRMAN OF FOHRMAN DODGE

Who was the youngest person ever to play major league baseball?... Answer is Joe Nuxhall who pitched for the Cincinnati Reds in 1944, at the age of 15.

Incredibly, a big league baseball pitcher once won 20 games TWICE in one season... Jack Chesbro of the 1904 Yankees won 20 games by July and then won 21 more before the end of the season for a total of 41 victories... Chesbro won 41 and lost 12 that year.

What's the highest price ever charged for a ticket to one sports event in America?... Would you believe $100,000?... That all-time record was set Aug. 4, 1944, during World War II, when a fight was staged to sell U.S. war bonds... It was a light-heavyweight championship bout between Beau Jack and Bob Montgomery... To get a ringside seat for that fight, you had to buy a $100,000 war bond.

Lake Zurich firm showing golf world acrylic works

STEVE PETERSON

Staff Reporter

In 1981, the experts in the golf manufacturing field said it could not be done.

Ten years later, the same response came when Robert Good presented a new idea of a acrylic golf club. Now, the club is being used on area golf courses as well as by professionals.

Good, co-president of the Lake Zurich based The Clear Difference Co., Inc. bubbles with enthusiasm when discussing the crystal clear club.

"I met Bob at the golf course about four years ago and he showed me the club. Being right out of college, he said the best thing to do would be the injection mold. I was too ignorant to know it could not be done. We formed a partnership," Richard Carobus, co-president of Clear Difference, said.

"Ninety-five percent of people who use the club, say it has increased their accuracy," Good said.

The firm received United States Golf Assn. approval that the club, the "C4 Crossfire" driver conforms with USAGA rules.

Carobus, meanwhile, studied computer aided finite element plastics engineering. He worked for a Bloomingdale engineering consulting firm, building models on computers.

"When I met Bob, I had no doubt whatsoever I could do this club. Everybody said it could not be done."

The two sought assistance from the Illinois State University Technology Commercialization Center. Good and Carobus received a $7,500 grant.

The next hurdle was solving the problem of bubbles forming on the club a few hours after See GOLF page C27

Lee teaches ancient art to modern world

BILL DERMODY JR

Staff Reporter

A student beginning classes at Lee's Tae Kwon Do is about to learn much more than the art of self defense.

That student is about to embark on a whole new way of life.

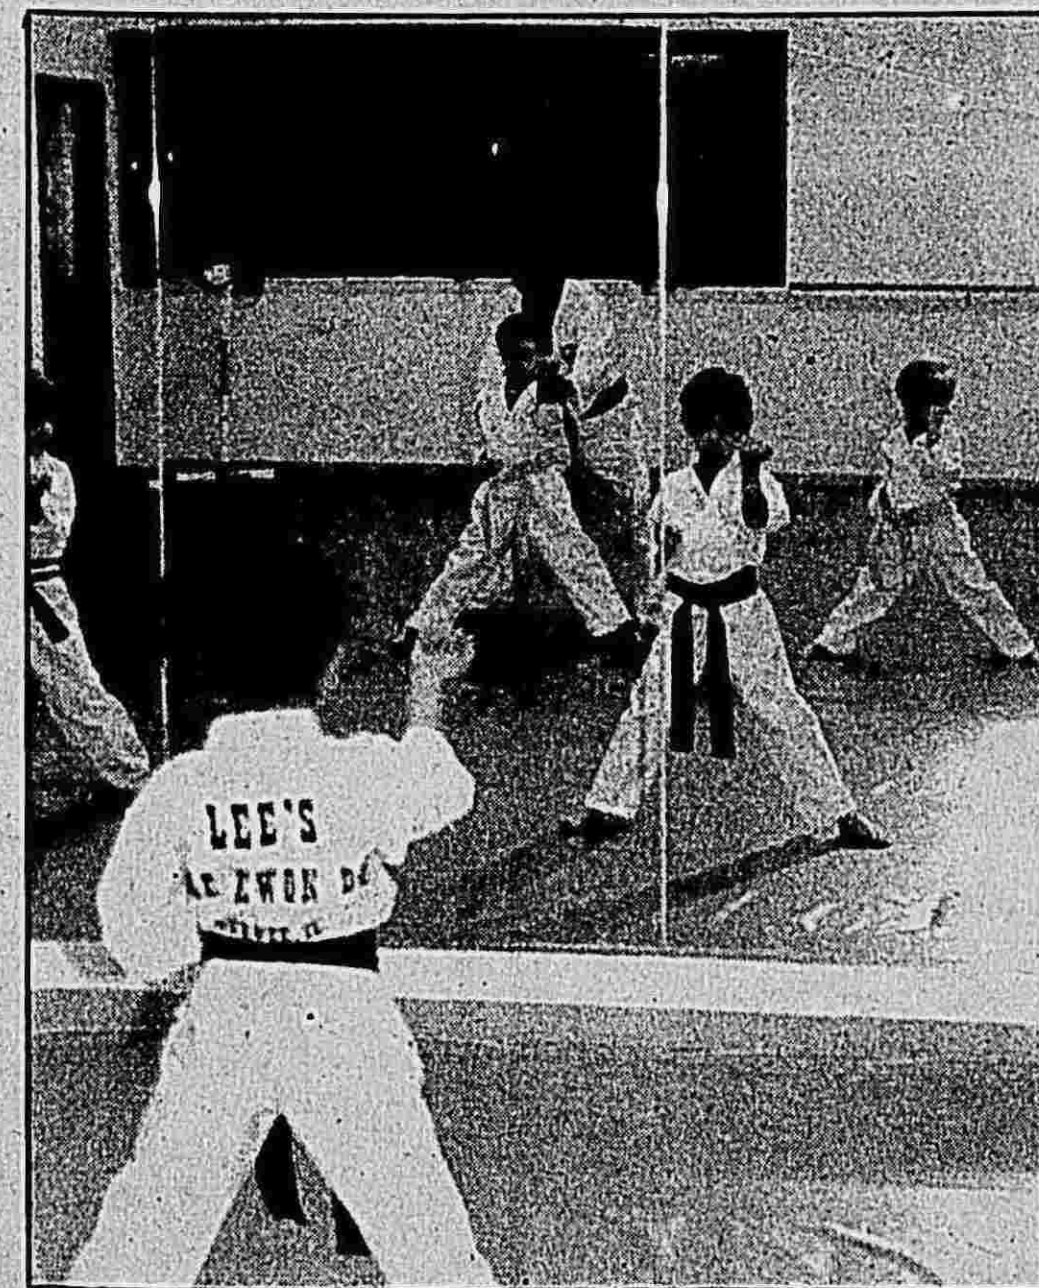

Tae Kwon Do is an ancient form of unarmed combat perfected in Korea. Other eastern countries also adopted this art, in China becoming Kung Fu and Karate in Japan.

Literally translated, "Tae" means to kick with the foot, "Kwon" is to hit with the fist, and "Do" means art or method. Today, Tae Kwon Do is a popular technique of self defense involving the skilled application of punches, flying kicks, blocks, and interceptions with the hands, arms, and feet.

Beyond being a martial art, however, Tae Kwon Do has been See LEE page C27

Master John Soo Lee guides a young student through a punching move. More than physical effort, Tae Kwon Do is an art that ties body and mind together.

Students at Lee's Tae Kwon Do in Gurnee practice their moves, carefully watching their style in the full-wall mirror. The studio also features Universal weights in a separate room.

Bruksch, Devito lead CLC hitting attack as loop nears

After opening the Florida trip with 4 losses at Valencia, the College of Lake County baseball team bounced back to play competitive ball the remaining games.

CLC came home with a 4-9 record in Florida, 12-9 overall. The Lancers begin defense of their Skyway Conference title at home April 9 against Elgin. The doubleheader begins at noon.

"We had two regrets: we averaged almost 8 left-on-base for a game (7.9). We could get the runners on base, but we had trouble getting them in. The other regret was our pitchers walked a few too many hitters," CLC Coach Gene Hanson said.

Sophomore Kurt Bruksch led the CLC hit parade. He had 32 hits in 64 at-bats, an even .500 average. He had 19 RBIs, 10 doubles and 4 homers. "I was expecting him to do well," Hanson said.

Another former Carmel grad, Dan Devito, was next with 19-for-45 with 18 RBIs with 5 doubles and a homer for a .422 average.

Keith Cummings hit .367 with

Warren grad Bob Olson hit .358 with 13 RBIs, 4 doubles and 4 homers.

Antioch grad Eric Blaha was next over .350 at .351 with 19-for-54, 18 RBIs, 4 doubles and 3 homers.

Brett Bowles of Waukegan was the ace with a 2-0 record and a 1.50 ERA.

"Brett is mixing up his pitches well," Hanson said.

Dan Torresin, from Tremper, Wis., was 2-2 with a 3.15 ERA. Derek Hart of Round Lake was 2-2 with a 3.78 ERA.

"Torresin and Hart both could be 3-1 but had a couple of hard-luck decisions," Hanson said.

As for the rest of the way in league play, Hanson cited a key.

"We need to have some guys step it up and do what they are capable of offensively," Hanson said.

CLC had non-conference games with Kishwaukee and DePaul before league tests begin.
